STORM RISES AT HEARING

Starts When Rebuttal Evidence Introduced Before Commission

OTTAWA, Dec. 6 (CP).—Temperatures were frayed and the evidence was punctuated with verbal clashes, today, when the Parliamentary Mass Buying Commission heard evidence relating to Dominion Stores, Limited, and Thrift Stores, Limited, of Montreal. It was the stormiest session of the commission and held the interest of scores of spectators.

HOPES TO SET SPEED RECORD

Sir Malcolm Campbell's Car Rebuilt for Tests at Daytona Beach

LONDON, Dec. 6 (AP).—Eighteen months of elaborate research and hard work had gone into the rebuilding of his veteran car, the Bluebird, for his next assault in February on his own world auto speed mark of 272.108 miles an hour, Sir Malcolm Campbell said today.

Work on the car has been proceeding steadily almost since the day he returned from his last trip to Daytona Beach, Fla., in 1933, Sir Malcolm said. Several months were spent in wind tunnel tests before actual reconstruction began.

Believes car is faster. "We have every reason to believe she will be quite a bit faster," he continued. "After all we'll need to clip only one second off the present time of 13.023 seconds for the mile in order to attain 300 miles an hour."

"It's a tremendous gamble. There's no possibility of testing the car's actual speed until it is set down at Daytona, but my engineers and I are more than hopeful. Bluebird will have the same engine, otherwise it will practically be a new car. Sir Malcolm expects to make his record run sometime between February 2 and February 24, depending on beach and tide conditions."

Press Search as Hope for Safety Of Flyers Wanes

Chances of Finding Ulm and Companions Dwindle as Big Area Is Scoured Without Trace of Missing Plane—Ship's Officers Believe Machine Was Soon Off Course

HONOLULU, Dec. 6 (AP).—Flickering hope spurred tired army and navy flyers and watchful mariners onward today in their mid-Pacific hunt for Lieut. Charles T. P. Ulm and two companions of the luckless plane Star of Australia. Two days had elapsed at 6 p.m., Pacific standard time, since the plane settled helplessly upon the ocean somewhere near the Hawaiian Islands.

FIRE DESTROYS TWO WHARVES

Three Persons Injured Rescuing Five From Yacht at Maine City

PORTLAND, Me., Dec. 6 (AP).—Fire swept a 300-yard stretch of the waterfront today, destroying two wharves, and damaging several small vessels, entailing a total loss estimated by officials at $200,000.

A woman and four men on board the schooner yacht Coronet, owned by a religious sect, leaped into the harbor when flames broke out on a wharf to which the craft was moored. They were rescued by four men in a rowboat.

The yacht is scorched. The mast and the port side of the Coronet were scorched by the heat and her lifeboat was burned. Three of the rescuers suffered injuries. The five persons rescued left the scene hurriedly, refusing to divulge their identity and asserting they did not need medical attention.

The fire, which originated in the plant of the New England Grain Company, on Hobson's Wharf, razed that 700-foot pier and the adjacent wharf of the Brown Company, a lumber concern.

Willows Exhibition Plant Offered New Tourist Association

Alderman T. W. Hawkins, President of B.C. Agricultural Organization, Extends Wholehearted Co-operation to Mayor's Development Plan

THE Willows exhibition plant, buildings of which alone are valued at $195,000, and which contain sixteen buildings, a race track oval, steeplechase track, polo ground, horse show ring, and a total exhibition space under roofs of 216,379 square feet, is at the disposal of the Tourist Trade Development Association of Victoria and Vancouver Island, so that it may have a foundation upon which to build up its entertainment attractions for tourists.

This good-will gesture was made yesterday by Alderman T. W. Hawkins, president of the B.C. Agricultural Organization, who, in company with W. H. Mearns, secretary of the association, made a complete tour of the plant yesterday before inviting T. H. Eslick, expert on tourist matters, to inspect the plant.

"We are not just willing to co-operate, but want to co-operate with this movement to the fullest extent," Alderman Hawkins stated, in announcing that the plant existed for the purpose of helping in the development and commercial growth of Victoria and Southern Vancouver Island.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Dec. 6 (AP).—Renewed activity of the hitherto "dead" volcano Icalma was blamed today for the North Chile earthquake in which six persons were reported wounded and two children missing. An official party from Iquique today visited the village of Zapaga and found it almost destroyed.

U. S. EXPECTS NAVAL RACE

Head of Delegation Warns That Building Will Start With End of Treaty

LONDON, Dec. 6 (AP).—A warning from the United States that the end of present naval treaties would mean "conditions of insecurity, of international suspicion and of costly competition" came today to climax strenuous, but fruitless, efforts to get Japan to delay denouncing the 1922 Washington Pact.

Norman H. Davis, head of the United States delegation to the current naval conversations here, voiced the warning, regarded as aimed at Japan, in an address before the American Correspondents' Association.

PROPOSED REDUCTION. The speech also disclosed that President Roosevelt had proposed "substantial all-around reduction in naval armaments."

The Tokyo Government, throughout, has maintained its firm decision to abrogate the pact, which gives the Japanese Navy the short end of the famed 5-5-3 ratio, not later than December 20.

Davis' address before the correspondents, considered highly significant in the light of the approaching end of the Washington Treaty, was the first comprehensive explanation of Washington's position.

"A sound basis for peace in the Pacific and the Far East was established by the Washington Conference," he said, "which put an end to a ruinous naval race."

ESSENTIAL TO SECURITY. He declared that "maintenance of the system of equality, with proportionate reductions downward of naval strength, if possible, was essential to maintain 'the substantial foundation' for security and peace which has thus been laid."

"Abandonment now of the principles involved would lead to conditions of insecurity, of international suspicion and of costly competition, with no real advantage to any nation," he said.

CARDS NOT YET LAID ON TABLE

Trading Policies Expected to Be Outstanding Issue of Election Campaign

OTTAWA, Dec. 6 (CP).—Prime Minister R. B. Bennett's address in Brockville, last night, may have had the full tone of a keynote campaign utterance, but those close to the Government here hesitated to describe it as such, today.

It was not believed that Mr. Bennett would lay many of his cards on the table so early. Nevertheless, it was generally agreed that Canada's trading policies would be one of the outstanding issues of the campaign next year, and the statements of Mr. Bennett, Mr. Mackenzie King on his return a few days ago from abroad, indicated that the Empire agreements would present a clearly-defined gulf between the two parties.

SOCIAL LEGISLATION. It is already known that a comprehensive scheme of unemployment insurance will be laid before Parliament at the earliest opportunity. Undoubtedly this will be coupled with several items of social legislation of far-reaching importance, as well as proposals designed to combat the recurring evils of drought and pests in Western Canada.

The unemployment insurance measure will at once precipitate a debate on the question of amending the British North America Act.

TREATIES ALL GOOD. Mr. Bennett prides himself that all the trade treaties he has made have been good ones. He will not endanger that record by negotiating one with the United States which will not be fair to Canada, he has frequently declared. But it is known that his departmental officials have recently drawn up a basis for negotiation for a reciprocal trade treaty they believe fair to both United States and Canada, and only the indifference of the United States Government, or its inability to negotiate, would prevent consummation of an agreement.

Action of Yugoslav Soldiers as Belgrade Orders Expulsion of Thousands of Hungarians Creates Perilous Situation—Only Cool Work of Officers Prevents Outbreak of Fighting

Future Trouble Feared as Break in Relations Widens

SZEGED, Hungary, Dec. 7.—A Serbian contingent of the Yugoslav army crossed the frontier into Hungary today, challenged a weaker border force to combat, and precipitated a situation fraught with peril. The invasion was the result of the order of Yugoslavia expelling 27,000 Hungarians from the country and was one of a series of incidents resulting from the October 9 assassination of King Alexander.

The Serb troops crossed into Hungarian soil, three miles from here, in the early morning hours. Only the greatest disciplinary actions on the part of the Hungarian officers prevented the outbreak of fighting. The situation was most tense and future trouble was feared.

SOLDIERS SHOUT THREATS. The Yugoslav soldiers shouted threats and curses across the line at the Hungarians, as thousands of those affected by the expulsion order continued to pass into Hungary. "This town and others near it were choked with the refugees. More thousands were on their way, as fierce indignation prevailed against Yugoslavia in the frontier villages, where we recognized that the Yugoslav forces are far too superior to combat."

Earlier, there had been reported a general belief that the Yugoslav troops would attack this town, and to the indignation was added a note of terror.

PREPARING FOR POLAR FLIGHT

Ellsworth Expedition Finds Suitable Flying Field on Antarctic Ice

By LINCOLN ELLSWORTH, Leader, Ellsworth Trans-Antarctic Flight Expedition. (Copyright, 1934, by The North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc., and The New York Times Company.)

SNOW HILL ISLAND, WEDDELL SEA, Antarctica, Dec. 6 (By Wire).—The airplane Polar Star, after forty-four days of searching, is at last on solid ice from which she has a reasonably good chance of taking off with safety.

The runway was discovered on the summit of Snow Hill Island. After reaching the shelf ice in the Weddell Sea and finding it unsafe for a flying field, we aimed at a position opposite Nordenskiöld's hut, by proceeding between Seymour and Snow Hill Island. This was not successful, for shallow water lies between them, so we anchored near the southern edge of the glacier which forms the snow hill of Snow Hill Island.

PLANE IS UNLOADED. On Monday, we tied the Wyatt Earp to the barrier of Snow Hill Island, which stands at high tide, about ten feet above sea level. The Polar Star was immediately unloaded, and, with little difficulty, was taxied under her own power up the slope to the first plateau, about one mile inland and 500 feet above sea level. Here the snow lies fairly firm and is suitable for take-offs on trial flights. Higher up on the summit, which lies 900 feet above sea level, the surface is perfect.

As soon as the weather clears we will make a flight of three or four hours' duration to test the machine and wireless, and we will then be ready for the Transantarctic journey.

SANTA ROSA GETS BAD SHAKING UP. Houses Collapse in Seat of Government—Small Town Destroyed—No Casualties Reported. (Copyright, 1934, by the Associated Press) TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Dec. 6 (AP).—The city of Santa Rosa, Government seat in the Copan District, while not destroyed, received a thorough shaking up in the earthquakes of the past two days, reports reaching here said today. Some of the houses, from which the population of 12,000 fled, collapsed.

San Antonio, a small Copan District town, was destroyed, but whether there were casualties was not determined.

MOUNT TOLMIE WORK ORDERED

Road and Lookouts to Be Constructed—Is First Step in Exploitation

Definite action was taken by the Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee, yesterday, to exploit Mount Tolmie as a tourist attraction. This action comes as a direct result of the campaign of tourist trade development launched at a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium, Wednesday night.

The committee decided to construct a road from the base of the mountain to the top, and providing proper parking space there for automobiles, besides erecting lookouts so that visitors may secure a magnificent view of the marine and island scene that is possible from various points of vantage at the summit of Mount Tolmie.

OTHER PROJECTS

This project is the forerunner of others that will follow in the exploitation of Mount Tolmie, so that ultimately it will come into its own as one of the chief attractions in the city.

The committee also appointed Councillor G. A. Vantreigh, of Saanich, as its delegate to the advisory committee of the Tourist Trade Development Association of Victoria and Vancouver Island.

It also was decided at yesterday's meeting to police Mount Douglas Park so as to prevent persons from cutting Christmas trees in this natural park, through the woods of which trails have been built to the summits of the two peaks.

All Parties Voicing Their Commendation Of British Decision

Sending of Troops to Join International Force in Saar Found Surprising, But Follows Agreement by France and Germany

LONDON, Dec. 6 (CP).—The House of Commons and the British public generally today hailed Britain's decision to join in maintaining order in the Saar, during the critical plebiscite period, as marking a change in national policy heralding more active steps towards keeping the peace in Europe.

Both Labor and Liberal Oppositions had words of commendation for the British Government's decision when it was outlined in the House, this afternoon, by Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon, who stressed that the offer of British troops was conditional on agreement by both France and Germany not to join in the international force, as interested parties. Both France and Germany have signified their assent, he added.

REVERSAL OF POLICY. It marked a surprising reversal of British policy. Only a month ago, Sir John had firmly declared there was never any question of Britain's sending troops to the Saar, the little Franco-German border region, which will vote on January 13 whether to return to Germany, join France or stay under the League of Nations.

UNEMPLOYED ASSEMBLING

Delegates Here From Mainland and Attend Mass Meeting

Delegates from the British Columbia Mainland and Vancouver Island began assembling here, last night, in preparation for the march to the Legislative Buildings, where representatives will interview Premier Pattullo and the members of his Cabinet to present demands for increased relief allowances, and a higher standard of living for the unemployed.

Ninety-two arrived by the afternoon boat, from Vancouver, and they represent widely-separated sections of the province. These delegates were joined by twenty-one from the upper part of Vancouver Island. Another contingent from the Mainland is due in Victoria by the morning boat. The conference is scheduled for 10:30 o'clock this morning.

PARADE TODAY

The official delegates hope to be strengthened in their parade to the buildings by the unemployed of Victoria and a number of representatives of trade unions. Instructions have gone out that the parade must be orderly and the officials in charge of the official delegation have impressed this firmly on their delegates.

As a preliminary to the parade and conference, a mass meeting was held in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium, at which a number of speakers outlined the conditions confronting the unemployed and the purpose of the conference.

MAIN SPEAKERS

Upwards of six hundred attended the meeting, which was presided over by L. C. Mabbott, of Vancouver. The principal speakers were I. Emery, representing the Vancouver District Waterfront Workers' Association; T. Guy Sheppard, representing the Victoria branch of the C.C.F.; Matthew Shaw, of the British Columbia Relief Camp Workers' Association; Yvonne Gillard, eleven-year-old schoolgirl, who is representing the unemployed schoolgirls of Vancouver; Mrs. Annie Stewart, of the Vancouver Women's Labor League, and William Black, provincial secretary of the C.C.F., unemployed unit, and also provincial secretary of the British Columbia Joint Committee on Unemployment.

Roger E. Bray, of Vancouver, chairman of the joint committee, and in charge of the delegation, was present at the meeting, but did not speak. Arrangements have been made for another meeting, to take place this evening, at the Chamber of Commerce, at which the official delegates will give a review of matters considered at the conference and the results obtained.

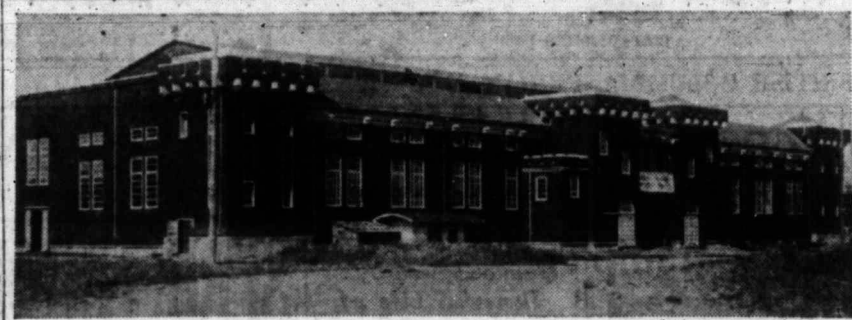

OUTLINE CONDITIONS

For the most part the addresses of the main speakers were confined to a general outline of conditions among the unemployed in the province, with references to individual cases of want and destitution. The Government was severely criticized for its promise of "work and wages" and the failure to fulfill the pledges made at the election a year ago. There was also criticism of the methods of some of the Vancouver agencies in the matter of clothing distribution and the administration of funds collected for the relief of the unemployed.

HORTICULTURISTS TO HEAR ADDRESSES

METCHOSIN, Dec. 6.—Under the auspices of the horticultural section of the Metchosin and District Community Club, the monthly meeting and lecture will be held at Metchosin Hall on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Two interesting talks are to be given on this occasion, one by Claude L. Harrison on "Various Edible Fungus," accompanied by lantern slides, and the other by Norman W. M. Rant, on "Rock Gardens," also with lantern slides.

Important Unit of Exhibition Here

The Horse Show Building at the Willows, shown above, was built at a cost of $45,000, and by the expenditure of $2,500, could be made to seat 4,500 persons and provide a sports arena not only for horse shows, but box lacrosse, badminton, basketball, track meets, and also for philharmonic concerts. The proposal outlined above has been suggested by Alderman T. W. Hawkins, president of the British Columbia Agricultural Association.

WILLOWS EXHIBITION PLANT IS OFFERED

during exhibition week. We have found it necessary to extend the exhibition period from six to seven days, and even now are finding it difficult to provide space for exhibitors who wish to take part in the exhibition," the alderman said.

"Because of this, we feel that the exhibition can play a useful part in the new scheme of things, apart from the exhibition itself, which incidentally attracts 120,000 visitors to the fair during one week, and draws between 17,000 and 18,000 entries annually," the alderman declared.

Alderman Hawkins illustrated his point by citing the Horse Show Building, which cost $45,000 and which has an area of 35,100 square feet, and a horse ring seventy-seven feet wide and 150 feet long. The present seating capacity of this building is 2,100 persons. For $2,500 it could be enlarged, if necessary, to accommodate 4,500, provide a heating plant, and showers and dressing rooms for athletes.

SPORTS ARENA

It could be used for box lacrosse, badminton, philharmonic concerts, and a multitude of attractions. In addition to the one for which it was originally constructed, the alderman pointed out, adding that Thomas Gifford, prominent lacrosse official and former star of the New Westminster Salmonbellies, already had inspected the plant and approved it as an ideal sports arena for indoor lacrosse.

Proudly pointing to the fact that the exhibition was self-supporting, Alderman Hawkins gave in detail just what the plant consisted of. In addition to the Horse Show Building, there are:

DETAILS OF PLANT

Manufacturers' Building, eighty-six feet by 180 feet, valued, after allowing depreciation, at $12,000.

Women's Building, seventy-five feet by 125 feet, two stories and basement, where carpet bowling tournaments are now held; value, $9,000.

Main Agricultural Building, 100 feet by 220 feet; value, $18,000.

Poultry Building, ninety feet by 200 feet; value, $8,000.

Goat Building, eighty feet by 175 feet; value, $2,500.

Horse barns, capable of housing 400 head of horses, valued at $8,000.

Swine pens, capable of housing 150 head of swine, valued at $2,500.

Sheep barns, ninety feet by 120 feet, capable of housing 500 head, valued at $2,700.

Cattle barns, 120 feet by 350 feet, capable of housing 450 head of cattle, valued at $10,000.

Industrial Building, 100 feet by 205 feet, valued at $27,000.

Restaurant Building, seventy feet by 105 feet, valued at $4,000.

Automobile Building, 100 feet by 200 feet, valued at $15,000.

Grandstand, betting rings, paddock, jockey quarters, valued at $30,000.

OTHER FEATURES

Race track oval, five eighths of a mile in length, and capable of being extended to a mile.

Polo ground and steeplechase course.

Parking facilities for 3,000 cars. Offices and fire hall, $1,000.

Sixty-eight acres of land, much of which has been attractively laid out in gardens and green swards to enhance the appearance of the exhibition buildings.

The Main Building already is being used to provide nine badminton courts, while all the other buildings could be developed and put to some entertainment use during that part of the year when the exhibition is not in progress, Alderman Hawkins pointed out.

ARREST WHOLE STAFF

War Commissar Klement Voroshiloff, who was then in Leningrad, the dispatch said, sent out troops to rush the OGPU Building with machine guns and hand grenades and arrested the entire staff. It was said that ten members of the OGPU were killed in the fighting.

Learning of the incident, Stalin lost all confidence in the OGPU, the dispatch said, and ordered the arrest of fourteen members of the Moscow group who were promptly shot.

The execution of all persons connected with the arrested OGPU chiefs then began, the dispatch said, continuing that Stalin now trusts the Red Army alone and that since his return to Moscow for Kiroff's funeral the city has become a vast camp of soldiers rushed by special train from all parts of the country.

May Make Large Loan To Russia

PARIS, Dec. 6 (AP).—Paul Baudouin, president of the foreign affairs committee of the Chamber of Deputies, told the committee yesterday that the French Cabinet was considering making a large loan to Soviet Russia.

The loan, which would go through the bank with the French Government's guarantee, was regarded as possible only if the Soviet agreed to some form of settlement of the car-issuing Russian debts, which, in 1925, were estimated at more than 15,000,000,000 francs (about $990,000,000 at today's quotations).

PRESSING SEARCH AS HOPE WANES

The navy had thirteen planes re-sweeping the area already covered by other ships during the first two days of the search. Commander W. Tod, in charge of navy aerial search forces, said.

The army sent three bombers and an amphibian plane to join navy squadrons north of Kauai Island, and another amphibian was dispatched to the big island of Hawaii, to the south.

Because southerly winds have prevailed most of the time since the Star of Australia was forced down, and because currents flow northward, it is presumed that the plane has drifted to near the northwestern extremity of the archipelago. This was Commander Rodgers' experience in 1925.

People of the island closely followed the progress and reports of the search, but despite the excellent weather for flying and visibility, and hope that refused to die, there was a growing feeling that the Star of Australia and its brave crew were at the bottom of the sea.

Navy airmen today estimated that searching planes have covered nearly 250,000 miles, equivalent to the combined square mileage of the States of Washington, Oregon and about half of California.

SEEMED OFF COURSE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6 (AP).—Reports today from officers of the liner Lurline, which docked late yesterday, from Honolulu, indicated that Flight-Lieutenant Charles Ulm was probably off his course when only 500 miles off the Golden Gate. On this basis, they believed Ulm probably was north of his course when exhaustion of fuel forced him to descend to the ocean when possibly within 200 or 300 miles of his Oahu goal.

The Matson liner and the Honolulu-bound airplane passed Monday night, exact time not known. As a guide to the flyers, the Lurline turned on her searchlights, pointed upward at 45 degree angles ahead and astern, but the officers said Lieutenant Ulm radioed he could not see the ship.

CALLED ALL STATIONS

Captain C. A. Berndson, of the Lurline, said today the ship's first contact with the Ulm plane was at 3:37 a.m., G.M.T. (10:37 p.m., Monday, E.S.T.; 7:37 p.m., P.S.T.). The take-off from Oakland was at 3:41 p.m., P.S.T. At that time the plane called all stations. When the Lurline responded the plane asked for the ship's position. This was given, placing the liner on her course about 500 miles from San Francisco.

Lieutenant Ulm then responded that he seemed to be somewhat to the south of the Lurline, and requested a radio compass bearing. This was given.

NO FURTHER CHECKING

"No request for a second bearing was received," said Captain Berndson, "and with no further checking signals from the plane, it was impossible for us to accurately place the plane."

Main Line officials dived into mathematics, however, and by triangulation, with all information at hand, reckoned the position of the plane as about sixty-two miles off its course, to the north, when it settled to the water. Their best estimate of geographical position was about 100 miles north of Kauai, on a direct line with the little coral island, Nihoa.

Famous Canadian Surgeon Is Dead

TORONTO, Dec. 6 (CP).—A pioneer Canadian surgeon, who became one of North America's most eminent ear, nose and throat specialists, Dr. David James Gibb Wishart, died yesterday. He was seventy-five years old.

Dr. Wishart was one of the few Canadians ever elected to an honorary fellowship in the American Laryngological Association, senior society of its kind on the continent.

Ship Held By Ice in Far North

EDMONTON, Dec. 6 (CP).—Midway between Coppermine and Akilvik, on the Arctic Coast, the Hudson's Bay Company Diesel-powered schooner Margot A. is trapped in the ice in Letty Harbor and her crew of half a dozen men have been held prisoners since October, according to word brought here by Northerners today.

The ship is believed to be well stocked with provisions and except for the long wait for a rescue plane the men are suffering little discomfort. A plane will take off from Cameron Bay as soon as flying conditions permit to bring in the captain and engineer, but some of the crew will be left in charge of the craft.

ONE CANDIDATE DISQUALIFIED

Walter Inward Ruled Out of Civic Election Contest—Sixteen in Field

The close of nominations yesterday found sixteen candidates in the field for the civic election on December 13.

Seventeen aspirants had been announced, but an investigation of the various candidates' qualifications by the returning officer yesterday afternoon disclosed that Walter Inward, who had filed his papers for alderman, was barred, owing to the fact that he was not properly qualified.

FILED PAPERS YESTERDAY

Archibute Willis, news editor of the Times, and Alexander Marshall, insurance agent, were the only two candidates to file nomination papers yesterday. The remainder had previously filed their papers with M. F. Hunter, city clerk, and returning officer.

Mr. Willis was proposed by Trustee W. T. Strath, barrister and solicitor, of 19 Cook Street, and seconded by Arthur Lee, broker, 535 Trutch Street.

Mr. Marshall was proposed by Robert Smith, sanitary and heating engineer, of 518 Douglas Street, and seconded by William A. Jameson, manufacturer, of 754 Broughton Street.

NO SURPRISE

Joseph North failed to bring forward a candidate, although he had taken out nomination papers for alderman.

The civic nominations are as follows: Two mayoralty candidates; ten aldermanic candidates seeking election to five vacancies, and four school board candidates seeking election to three vacancies.

Nominations for the by-election to fill the one-year vacancy on the school board do not close until 2 p.m. next Monday.

Numa Landry, a manager and former supervisor for Thrift Stores, branded as untrue some of the evidence presented several days ago by R. A. Sair, a dismissed manager. Landry said any competent manager could balance his stock at Thrift Stores without cheating customers, and claimed the organization gave adequate allowances for wastage, breakages and short measure.

Thrift Stores pay salaries and commissions to managers, deducting stock shortages, Landry said he could not explain the fact that $18,000 was deducted from managers' commissions, last year, to cover stock shortages.

Landry produced documents to show that Sair received wastage credits, although the former manager told the commission he had received none.

STRUCTURAL FAILURE CAUSED FATAL CRASH

OTTAWA, Dec. 6 (CP).—Structural failure of the aircraft during flight was the cause of the accident at Camp Borden, on October 31, when the late Sergeant V. S. Roberts was killed, it was announced last night, by the Department of National Defence. The finding was made by the court of inquiry, which investigated the fatal airplane crash.

New Franco-German Friendship Move Is Alarming to Russia

Soviet Commissar Hurries to Consult French Foreign Minister and Is Assured Plans for Eastern Locarno Pact Not Imperilled

GENEVA, Dec. 6 (AP).—A new French move for friendship with Germany, hailed in Geneva as likely to lay the spectre of war hovering over Europe, today gave Russia, France's wartime ally, cause for concern.

The Soviet Commissar for Foreign Affairs, Maxim Litvinov, hurried to the French Foreign Minister, to ask France's pledge that she would not enter any agreement with another nation without consulting Russia.

The two statesmen, who last month were reported to have agreed that the Russian army would be at France's disposal should Germany attack, decided that neither nation should make political accords with third parties without consulting the other, until the Eastern Locarno Security Pact is completed.

FEARS ISOLATION

Russia, it was reported, feared the Franco-German understanding might isolate her, and this League of Nations seat was speculating, tonight, as to whether the reported Franco-Soviet military accord might not give place ultimately to an outright Franco-German alliance.

Laval's policy of seeking real understanding with Germany, evident in the agreement that the two na-

TEST UPSETS CARD THEORY

Culbertson Loses Money in Game to Prove Contract Bridge Claim

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP).—P. Hal Sims took money today away from Ely Culbertson and proved one of Culbertson's mathematical contract bridge theories was wrong.

Culbertson had the ace of spades in every hand of twelve rubbers, yet lost $17. He had to pay his losses at the rate of 10 cents a point and collected 5 cents a point for his winnings. Before the match he said he never had been so sure of victory in any bridge competition; that the constant ace of spades was an insuperable obstacle for opponents even at odds of 2 to 1.

Math theory was that it all depended on the cards and good play and he proved it. He and partner, B. Jay Becker of Philadelphia, won only four rubbers from Culbertson and Albert H. Morehead, but the 10 cents a point made the winnings large enough to offset what they lost in eight rubbers at 5 cents a point, and notwithstanding the fact that the only slams bid and made were by Morehead, two of them in succession in the same rubber.

Culbertson had a theory that his session of the ace of spades would mean many spade contracts for his side. Yet in the largest rubber won by Sims and Becker, 1,150 points, each of them made five spades on a contract for four.

Culbertson and Morehead played more no trump contracts than anything else. Sims and Becker were prone to heart contracts.

BRITISH INTERESTS TO DEVELOP POWER IN CARIBOO DISTRICT

VANCOUVER, Dec. 6 (CP).—Incorporation of the Cariboo Hydro-Electric Power Company, with $1,000,000 capitalization, announced today, indicates that interested British capital has been satisfied mining development in the Barkerville district is so promising that expenditure of large sums to provide adequate power supply for mining operations is justified.

Surveys of the entire region were made, on behalf of British interests, last Summer, and it is understood waterpower rights have been secured and that there are ample facilities for development of a major power project. The chief mine now operating in the effected district is the Cariboo Gold Quartz.

RAIN SHORTAGE HALTS SHIPPING

Rivers in Kwantung Province of China Too Low to Navigate

CANTON, China, Dec. 6 (CP).—Considerable anxiety due to the absence of rain for several weeks and the corresponding dropping of the water levels of the East, West and North Rivers is being felt by shipping firms in Canton.

The water levels of the different rivers have already receded to such an extent that shipping has been rendered practically impossible, and at several places only the smallest junks and sampans can be navigated at low tide.

During low tide, the upper stretches of the West and North Rivers above the cities of Sanchow and Shanghai are of insufficient depth to carry even the smaller craft.

On the East River, above the cities of Hoyun, Waichow and Pokio, navigation has come to a standstill—the water being less than one foot deep in places. Similar reports of a severe shortage of water have been received from various towns situated on the tributaries of the Pearl River.

Although the Kwantung Provincial authorities are engaged in extensive road-building projects, the greater percentage of trade in Kwantung Province is transported by the rivers that intersect the province. Shipments of goods from Canton are taken as far as possible by small steamers, and then transferred to junks for transportation to the final destinations.

The various shipping firms of Canton are afraid that, unless there is a rise in the various river levels within a few days, all communications by river with the interior districts will have to be suspended.

SAY RELIEF NOT MUNICIPAL CHARGE

Sanich Council Endorses Resolution of Unemployed Joint Committee—Holiday Allowed

Sanich Council last night endorsed a resolution sponsored by the joint committee on unemployment, calling for relief to be a Provincial and Federal Government responsibility rather than a municipal responsibility.

However, further demands to be made by the unemployed to the Provincial Government today were not endorsed by the council.

Municipal unemployment will be given a holiday today—without pay—in order to be present at the Parliament Buildings this morning. The men will be allowed to work their day at a later date.

Trustee Walter P. Jeune, chairman of the Sanich School Board, presided. Those taking part included the Victoria Firemen's Band, under Bandmaster Albert Rumsby, Mesdames Ford, Wood, Noel, and Messrs. Lillie and Abbott.

CIVIC AFFAIRS

It is not symptomatic of sufficient civic patriotism that there should be so few candidates in the field this year for municipal honors. The situation in this respect does not compare favorably with many previous years. It could well have been supposed that when one of the chief problems for which a solution is sought is to find relief in the taxation imposed on property owners that there would have been a greater desire to seek office and help in the solution. The desire, however, is limited. There is little competition in prospect for places on the Board of School Trustees.

Possibly the citizens are satisfied with the knowledge that such good financial arrangements have been made during the present year as to obviate any possibility of an increase in taxation for 1935. By a process of selling and investment of sinking funds and the exchange of bonds it is possible to take care of the sinking fund requirements and leave a substantial sum available for current revenue purposes. There will be a surplus at the year end, enough to preclude the possibility of increased taxation, unless unforeseen circumstances arise. This result is due to the foresight and financial acumen of Alderman P. R. Brown, chairman of the finance committee of the City Council. He well deserves the thanks of the property owners for the attention he has paid to civic finances during the year now drawing to an end. His achievement, indeed, is the highlight of actual accomplishment during the municipal year.

The municipal elections of this month, more so than for several years past, seem likely to prove a matter of routine. The competition is not keen, few meetings will be held; in fact, there is something in the nature of apathy in the air. That apathy, however, obviously does not prevail in connection with Mayor Leeming's plans for civic development through the agency of a Trade Tourist Development Association. That is an organization that has been launched with enthusiasm, that is destined to receive substantial support and that can accomplish most satisfactory results. The programme already outlined shows there has been careful planning. By consistent and sustained effort it can be brought to a happy fruition and civic development will benefit proportionately.

UNDER PROVINCIAL AUTHORITY

Mr. C. H. Cahan, Secretary of State, is undoubtedly correct in saying that many matters now being discussed in the press and elsewhere "in relation to hours of labor, wages, price spreads, costs and profits are exclusively within the jurisdiction of Provincial Legislatures." He does not believe that the Dominion Government is competent, under the British North America Act, to prescribe valid and effective remedies. Mr. Cahan, however, should have admitted that in the matter of short weights and measures the responsibility belongs to the Dominion, and the irony of the situation is that it was the Chief Inspector of Weights and Measures who gave evidence of the failure of some firms to abide by Federal laws. In this respect at least the Dominion Government can tighten up its authority.

The Price Spreads Commission has been asked by the City Council of Montreal to investigate the light, heat and power situation in that city. Mr. Cahan very properly points out that this is a matter for the Legislature of Quebec which has exclusive legislative and administrative jurisdiction in the matter. Mr. Cahan admits that the constitutional difficulty is not an insurmountable one, but he intimates that constitutional changes can only be brought about when they have the sanction of public opinion. "No Government," he says, "can subsist in this or in any other democratic country that is disposed to condone the use of physical force and intolerant intimidation to effect constitutional changes."

There is a strict definition of power as between the Dominion and the provinces. Mr. Cahan refers to the fate of the Combines and Fair Prices Act of 1919. This was passed by the Federal Parliament following the Great War, when conditions arose that were deemed detrimental to the public interest. A Board of Commerce was appointed by which the Act should be administered. The legislation was declared by the Imperial Privy Council to be ultra vires of the Dominion Parliament. In other words, the powers sought belong to the provinces. Probably exactly the same would be found to be the case were the Federal Parliament to take action on some at least of the evidence now being adduced before the Price Spreads Commission. The power to effect the remedies, which will undoubtedly be sought, lies in large part with the Provincial Legislatures. It is those Legislatures which should have instituted inquiries to ascertain what the Price Spreads Commission is determining.

THE RADICAL AGITATOR

The modern purveyors of sovereign remedies for the ills of our social and economic life who advertise their wares in pamphlets, in the public press and over the radio, bear an interesting resemblance to another well-known class of scoundrels, those who have from the earliest ages sought to flout the principles and discredit the practice of the medical faculty. The methods of pretenders to knowledge and skill in the healing art have not changed materially with the passing years. Their enumeration of the symptoms of disease, their glib talk concerning its nature, the efficacy of their quack remedies, their pseudo-scientific patter, their confident assertions and wholesale promises are much the same from one age to another.

The methods and policies of the self-appointed critics and expert renovators of our social life are patterned upon the same model. Their first effort is to persuade us that the existing social structure is rotten to its very foundations.

They seek to create this impression by pointing out and dwelling insistently and interminably upon certain defects and imperfections which it is always easy to discover in any and every human institution. They carefully avoid any reference to the fact that the institutions which they condemn have proved their value during a very long period of time. They next proceed to announce their new remedy. This is the critical phase of their campaign. It is essential to the career of the social reformer that he attract and hold the attention of the public. There is nothing quite so disconcerting to the agitator as to find that he is unable to evoke any response from those whom he attacks. "It was said long ago by a New England sage that controversy equalizes fools and wise men—and the fools know it. The agitator knows well the advantage of publicity and the equalizing tendency of public controversy and therefore redoubles his efforts."

Our political constitution with all its alleged faults secures for us all the rights of free speech and a free press. The agitator and those who act with him avail themselves of this right. They establish a party organ. Its every chapter and verse is devoted exclusively to the task of expounding the tenets of their party. Such publications have little space to spare for those who do not agree with them. That of course is their own affair. Nevertheless, the agitators assert that they regard as their right to invade the correspondence columns of the ordinary newspapers, and, forgetting that a courtesy has been accorded them, are only too ready to denounce the public press with injurious epithets. The intolerant spirit of the radical sometimes prompts him to treat those who do not agree with him as either stupid or dishonest. A great English statesman once begged some equally intolerant people to think it possible that after all they might be mistaken.

HAVING THE BLUES

"Being liversh," having the blues, the megrims, being listless, bear-like and mungwumpish, is a disease which apparently did not make its appearance until the Nineteenth Century. Ancestors of the race either were unacquainted with the terms to describe their sensations, or else they had other and perhaps more expressive ones. The fact of "being liversh" has only recently, and somewhat cursorily, engaged the attention of physicians, because sufferers keep themselves to themselves. Now, with the spread of "livershness," possibly induced by some developments of modernism, Dr. A. F. Hurst, an English physician, deals with this insipid blueness seriously. His finding, however, according to The London Morning Post, is too narrow. He makes alcohol the arch-villain and declares that "when Bright Young People look like a total eclipse, cocktails have doused their glim and paralysed their liver cells." The Morning Post opens up a wider vista of causes when it says: "Everybody knows how Bertie Wooster, about elevenish, is wont to totter into the chemist's for a draught which buxks up the jolly old cells, and, beyond contradiction, some terrible livers are native to the bottom of a glass. Yet teetotalers, people who are neither Bright nor Young, come not off unscathed; they know those dire days which start with a glazed eye and an irritable tongue, and the feeling that the world is a sandbag which has slammed one in the neck. And humbly and gloomily they revolve the origin of their state, but seldom come at certainty. Some believe that high-spiced food and overmuch pepper bring disaster, and go in search of the salts, and others blame all on the east wind, and go to consult the weathercock. Obviously, more lights are needed on this question of liver, for at present there are many theories but no cures except patience—one's own stock and that of friends."

The man who cannot laugh is not only fit for treasons, stratagems, and spoils, but his whole life is already a treason and a stratagem.—Carlyle.

The great happiness of life, I find, after all, to consist in the regular discharge of some mechanical duty.—Schiller.

Few ever lived to a great age, and fewer still ever became distinguished, who were not in the habit of early rising.—Dr. John Todd.

Public opinion, though often formed upon a wrong basis, yet generally has a strong underlying sense of justice.—Abraham Lincoln.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

He either fears his fate too much,
Or his desires are small,
That dreads not put it to the touch,
To win or lose it all.

—Montrose.

We believe it was a certain Ecclesiastes, a philosophical commentator of long ago, who said there is nothing new under the sun. We thought of that saying this morning while reading the paper and noting what is going on under the sun in many parts of the world and thinking about what happened under the sun throughout the various ages of the world. Most of the nations of the earth are at present in a state of political turmoil and unrest, but there is nothing new in that. Many of the people of the nations of the present day have a curious way of choosing their rulers, but there is nothing new in that.

The Children of Israel, not many years after they became a nation, chose as their ruler a shepherd lad whose only experience in government was his experience in tending and feeding his flocks upon the rolling hills and in the plains. To prove that there is nothing new under the sun, consider the manner in which the people of the nations of the present day have chosen their rulers or their rulers have chosen to rule over them. Mussolini had had no experience in the craft of government when he made himself a dictator of Italy. Trotsky, a Jew, who led the revolution in Russia, had no experience in the science of government except such as he gained as a newspaperman in the United States, but he made the path of revolution safe for the men who supplanted him. Lenin finished his work, and Stalin rules over an apparently permanent system of administration.

De Valera, of Spanish and Irish blood, born in the United States, is the ruler of the Free State. In other days all the men whose names we have mentioned would have been called usurpers. At the present time they are called patriots, and possibly history will describe them as patriots. So there is nothing new under the sun. De Valera's work is not yet finished; but there is no doubt that the ruler of the Free State represents the aspirations of the people of Southern Ireland. He declares that his job is to emancipate the people of his country from the thraldom of the hated British yoke. There are other people in Ireland besides the people of the Free State.

There is another government in Ireland administering the affairs of another people alongside of the government of the Free State. A member of this government has been asking why De Valera does not grasp the bull by the horns and finish his work by declaring the complete independence of the Irish Free State. The member of the government of Northern Ireland, no doubt speaking under the authority of that government, declares that the existing political situation is intolerable and should be adjusted in the interests alike of all the people of Ireland and the people of Great Britain.

The president of the Free State knows, although he has not been told officially, that if he were to proclaim Southern Ireland a republic tomorrow, there would be no physical opposition to such a proclamation by the government of Great Britain. So it is not physical measures De Valera fears and makes him hesitate. It is the possible effect upon the fortunes of the Irish people he dreads and has reason to fear. No political proclamation can separate the people of the Free State from their dependence upon Great Britain in a business and economic sense.

Southern Ireland has not developed, like Northern Ireland, great manufacturing industries. It is almost exclusively an agricultural country, and the big cities of Great Britain are the natural markets for its products. Those markets have been closed in part as a consequence of the actions of the Free State government. The free flow of Irish livestock into the markets of British cities has been stopped. The Irish people were never addicted to the consumption of beef. They found more profit in selling their beef to British consumers than in consuming it themselves. Today there is a surplus of beef in the Free State part of Ireland that De Valera has ordered it to be distributed free to the unemployed, the producers to be paid out of the revenues of the state. But the government allowance to the butchers does not meet the cost of production and distribution, with a consequence that the cost of beef to consumers who are able to buy it is twopenny a pound higher than the government allowance, and the business conditions are almost as confused and uncertain as the political situation.

The political affairs of Ireland always have been extremely complicated. De Valera has succeeded in making the business affairs of the state quite as complicated as its political affairs. Already he has encountered circumstances which as a statesman of limited vision he did not foresee. He probably hesitates to take the final plunge of declaration of complete independence because he fears the future state of Ireland may be more confused than its present state.

LECTURES HERE PROVE POPULAR

Space at Provincial Museum at Premium for Carnegie Nature Talks

Embarrassingly heavy was the response to the announcement by the Provincial Museum, of arrangements for a series of Carnegie lectures on nature subjects for adults and children.

Owing to lack of adequate accommodation at the Museum, the talks for adults will be broadcast, commencing this evening at 8:15, over C.F.T. The first children's lectures will take place tomorrow morning at 9:45 and 11:15, respectively.

Major H. M. King will take the chair at the address to be given to grown-ups this evening by Mrs. Viola E. Garfield, of Seattle. Her subject will be "Carnibal Dancers," being descriptive of early days on the Pacific.

Kenneth Racey, of Vancouver, will be the children's lecturer tomorrow. Arrangement for the attendance of children are being completed through the Victoria School Board and the schools.

Owing to very limited space at the Museum, the children will be limited to between 150 and 200 at each lecture, with admission by ticket only.

Mr. Racey will talk on birdlife of the Pacific Northwest, under the title of "Feathered Friends." Further lectures will be announced later.

The time used is Pacific standard time for the 12th Meridian. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height refer to distinguish high water from low water. Where blank occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock, add 1.85 feet to the height of high water as above given.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Somenes drydock, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO A GREAT SPORTSMAN

By H. BRUCE BOREHAM

After a trip to various cities around the Western Prairies, I found myself on Saturday, December 1, on the train between Medicine Hat and Winnipeg, en route home. The weather had been marvelous throughout the week and my various visits had been successful and pleasant. I was, therefore, looking forward as usual to getting home. In other words, I was more or less at peace with the world.

Just as I had finished breakfast in the dining-car, my very good friend Hugh Campbell came along and with a strangely serious look on his face, said, "Bruce, did you hear about Jack?" "Jack? Jack who?" I replied. "Jack Matson," replied Hugh. "He died very suddenly early this morning after an emergency operation in Victoria."

Things suddenly became different. Forgotten were the pleasures of my trip and I even chilled a bit on home and everything else for the time being. Jack Matson dead! To me it was almost unbelievable. Certainly it was unthinkable. The trip home during the rest of the day was just different. It was impossible to remove the tragedy from my mind.

My first meeting with Jack, naturally, was in Victoria, several years ago. And, again naturally, talk about golf soon developed into a golf game. Harry Hodges, of Victoria, was one member of the foursome, but at the moment I do not recall who was the fourth; it may have been Lester Patrick. At the first tee, I found the second thing I had in common with Jack. We both played left-handed. The first angle of common ground was a long association with newspaper work.

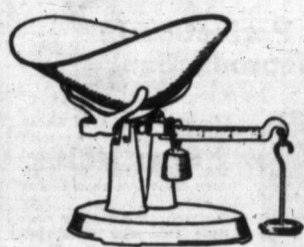

The left-handers collected the money at the end of the game, due principally, of course, to the accurate shooting of Jack. Always generous, Jack was good enough to say I had saved the odd hole, but Jack played most of the golf on our side.

From that day I found a sort

Physical Training Will Commence in Victoria Next Week

Committee Under Mayor Leeming Completes Arrangements for Provincial Recreational Courses
Directed by Ian Eisenhardt for Province

RECREATIONAL and physical training classes, for young men and women who are of sixteen years of age or over and at present unemployed, will be definitely launched in Victoria next week, Ian Eisenhardt, general director of the Provincial scheme, said yesterday after consultation with a Victoria committee, under Mayor Leeming.

Mr. Eisenhardt, in company with provincial and city educational officials, has already made a survey of conditions here, and will return, on Thursday next, to complete arrangements for classes under local instructors. Outdoor and indoor playing fields and gymnasiums may be used, with the Memorial Hall and one outdoor ground tentatively selected for a start.

COMMITTEE IN ACCORD

Hearty endorsement of the plan was accorded by the Victoria committee, composed of Mayor Leeming, Trustees P. E. George and W. T. Smith, and Municipal Inspector George H. Deane. The committee, with Major H. G. Hinton, went over a number of playing grounds with Mr. Eisenhardt during the day.

Finances are the immediate problem, it was explained, making prohibitive the use of certain gymnasiums space that would otherwise be well suited to the plan. Victoria's many outdoor playing fields were described as excellent.

SUCCESS ON MAINLAND

In Vancouver, Mr. Eisenhardt said, 400 young men and 200 women have already enrolled in classes, designed to afford a worthwhile course of physical training, coupled with healthful recreation. A similar plan of activities will be followed here.

Mr. Eisenhardt praised work done by Mr. Deane in connection with the tentative Victoria arrangements, and expressed general satisfaction at the adaptability of local facilities for the purpose in mind.

National Defence Minister to Give Talk Tuesday

HON. GROVE STERLING, Minister of National Defence, will deliver one address in the city next week, it was announced yesterday by Hugh Allan. Mr. Sterling will talk on "Canada's Relations With Other Countries" in an address before combined memberships of the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs, at the Empress Hotel at noon on Tuesday. It is expected that arrangements will be made to have others hear the speaker, as well.

WILL SHOULDER RELIEF COSTS

Saanich to Bear 40 Per Cent of Unemployed Charges Under New Agreement

Saanich Municipality will shoulder 40 per cent of the cost of relief from October 1, 1934, until March 31, 1935, it was decided at a council session last night.

A communication was received from E. W. Griffith, Provincial relief administrator, stating that between the dates mentioned the Federal and Provincial Governments would care for 60 per cent of the relief costs.

Previously it had been announced that under new agreements between the Ottawa and Provincial Governments, Saanich would have to bear an increase of about 23 per cent over the original one-third basis. This later agreement provided that Federal, British Columbia and municipal governments contribute equal amounts for relief.

However, after last night's meeting, it was shown that the increase will be 20 per cent, a saving of three per cent on a previous council statement.

Although the council did not welcome the news joyfully, they agreed this proposal was better than the expected agreement.

HAMPER DRIVE IS UNDER WAY

Sponsors of Fund Determined Every Needy Family Will Receive Cheer

With the actual opening of the hamper drive headquarters, the campaign being conducted by the local Gyo Club is rapidly gathering momentum and already the premises at 968 Yates Street show signs of the rapidly approaching holiday.

The sponsors are determined that every needy family will have means at their disposal for the customary Christmas Day meals, with the little frills of holiday good things which mean so much to the children.

The large variety of goods that will be required and the tremendous quantity of each commodity that will be needed to complete the hamper drive, make it necessary for the various committees to broadcast an appeal to each and every citizen for his help in this connection. Every contribution, no matter how small, will bring closer the objective which is aimed at, and it is hoped that the response will be steady and the flow of goods and money continuous.

ARRANGE PROGRAMMES

Commencing December 11 a series of radio programmes will be conducted over the local station, and it is hoped that every receiving set in the city will be tuned in to hear the entertainment provided. Broadcasting will be arranged on a basis that should appeal to each and every member of the family, starting early in the evening with children's favorites and passing later to Christmas music favored by the older members of the family. Each and every evening the broadcast will be provided with no expense to the fund, various commercial firms underwriting all expenditure required.

The highlight of this programme will be Monday evening, December 17, when a double feature will be provided. On that night, through co-operation with the Home Oil Distributors, the Home Gas Optimists will be presented in person at the Royal Victoria Theatre, all proceeds being definitely committed to the interests of the fund. The entire program will be broadcast direct from the stage of the theatre, and on this occasion, as well as all

IS CRITICAL OF FRENCH IN WAR

Historian Says Britain's Battles Not Fought on Military Principles

TORONTO, Dec. 6 (CP).—Sir Andrew Macphail, noted Canadian war historian, addressing the Empire Club, at a luncheon, today, said Great Britain's battles in the Great War were "dictated not by military principles, but by French political necessity."

He pictured Great Britain as an ally nation sending forth thousands of men to their doom in a futile attempt to appease insatiable French demands based on agreements that few in England knew existed.

MISTAKEN STRATEGY

"We surrendered the conduct of the war to the French," Sir Andrew said. "We have been the victims of their mistaken strategy and their internal political disorders... the Somme was fought to relieve Verdun... Passchendaele was fought to cover up the mutiny of sixteen divisions following Nivell's mad disaster..."

Sir Andrew said those who spoke lightly of Sir Douglas Haig and the British Army would do well to remember the conditions under which they worked.

"We fought continuously under the eye of French criticism," he said, "and General Rawlinson, surveying the Somme battlefield on the first day, when he lost 30,000 men, was content. 'The French,' he remarked, 'will now be convinced that we are pulling our share.'"

WHAT OBLIGATIONS?

Sir Andrew urged Canadians to ask of themselves what obligations now exist "whereby we may drift into war once more, or lay ourselves under the charge of perfidy to France and the Empire if we abstain." Before the Great War, he said, few realized how Great Britain was bound to France.

SAYS BUYING OF OLD TEXTBOOKS HURTING PUBLISHING BUSINESS

As school children, during the last few years, have been content with buying second-hand textbooks, publishing companies have suffered considerably, according to W. F. Thomas, Toronto, representative of the Copp, Clark Company, Limited, printing and publishing firm, who is visiting Victoria on business. He is staying at the Empress Hotel for a few days.

Although business in the publishing world is still far below the "good times" level, Mr. Thomas declared conditions showed an improvement over last year, and there was every indication of a continued rise next year.

STARTS ACTION TO BREAK WILL

Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson, in the Supreme Court here yesterday, heard arguments advanced on behalf of James E. Wintworth in which the latter seeks to have allowance made for his maintenance from the estate left by his wife, who died some months ago. The will of his late wife made disposition of her property amounting to about $23,000 to the Royal Jubilee Hospital, the hospital at Ganges, Salt Spring Island and to the Y.M.C.A.

G. H. Sedger and J. P. Walls, who represented Mr. Wintworth, contended that the petitioner had been left without the means of living, and presented affidavits from medical men to show that as a result of service during the war, he was not able to work. He had been forced to seek relief.

J. B. Clearhue and M. B. Jackson, K.C., who appeared for the different societies which had been named beneficiaries of the estate of Mrs. Wintworth, reviewed testimony of the Wintworths, showing that Mrs. Wintworth had inherited from John R. Giscom, late of this city, a very considerable estate. The disposition of the property so left her and the amount realized was presented to the court. When Mrs. Wintworth married the petitioner she was the widow of S. Coones.

The petitioner contends among other things that he should have the right to live on the ten acres which had formed their home of late on Salt Spring Island. Judgment was reserved by the court.

"What does it mean when you see the letter 'F' over a bar or stove of music?" asked teacher.
"Forte, sir," cried the bright boy in the class.
"Now, Dickey Duncie," said the teacher, "perhaps you can tell me what 'F' means?"
"Yes, sir, it means eighty air," replied Dickey brightly.

Use the choke only half as long!

The savings from using a Thermalized gasoline amount to something. Figure it out.

You start with a cold engine two... three... four or more times each wintry day. And you can save up to a cupful of gasoline every time.

No wonder motorists by the thousands are changing to this only Thermalized gasoline. They know how much Super-SHELL reduces choking—and saves them money. And what a real difference it makes in smoothness and speed of get-away.

North and South, people are enthusiastic. For every shipment of Super-SHELL is specially Thermalized for the exact weather conditions where it is used. And every gallon is made far more concentrated for maximum winter mileage.

Try a tankful. You'll never go back to ordinary winter gasolines.

COMMISSION FOR HIGHWAYS URGED

Fraser Valley Boards of Trade Criticize Condition of Roads on Mainland

ABBOTSFORD, Dec. 6 (CP).—Appointment of a highway commission for British Columbia will be urged on the Provincial Government by the Associated Boards of Trade of the Fraser Valley as the result of a decision reached at the organization's quarterly meeting, here.

A committee will study the Provincial highway situation and prepare a case outlining the necessity and advantages of a commission. An effort will be made to obtain support of all British Columbia trade bodies.

The decision followed a general discussion of alleged bad condition of many roads throughout the province and a request from the Vernon Board of Trade to support its proposal for hard-surfacing the highway between Osoyoos and Vancouver.

Various speakers declared that, despite increased gasoline tax, increasing Provincial debt and general necessity for better roads from the standpoint of both farmer and tourist, highways were gradually becoming worse.

General opinion was that, in order to eliminate politics in serving the province with better roads, to cut down waste and give efficient and economical road administration, a highway commission is necessary. The motion to endorse the commission was carried unanimously.

The menace to the low lands in the present condition of the Vedder River and the Vedder Canal, due to erosion of the banks and forest debris lodged in the channel, was emphasized by Chilliwack and Sumas representatives. The meeting endorsed a petition submitted by these districts asking the Provincial Government for an advance of $5,000 to meet the cost of dredging the Vedder.

Influx of Meenonites into the valley, many of whom are in great need, was discussed, but no action resulted.

The meeting approved the North Vancouver Board of Trade's application for membership. The next meeting will be held in Cloverdale.

Exchange Opened For Hamper Fund

In order to prevent duplication in distribution of hampers at Christmas time, the usual exchange and registry has been opened at 968 Yates Street. An urgent appeal is being made for anyone who is distributing hampers to register at that office their intention, together with the list of the families to be covered. This is a most necessary activity if the mutual effort of all is to be co-ordinated, and will be the means of making sure every available hamper will be placed in a family which needs its contents for Christmas. Telephone numbers are E 1127, E 1128 and E 1129.

"Nolo" to Be Feature of The Winter Horse Show

A new game, "Nolo," which is both interesting and exciting, is being introduced to Victoria by the members of the Victoria Riding Club, a new club formed by riders of the Victoria Riding Academy and an exhibition game will be among the features of the programme of the Winter Horse Show at the Willows on December 18.

Major J. E. Matthews, a native son of Victoria, now proprietor of the Woodbridge Riding Academy in Tacoma, originated the game and introduced it in that city, where it has been taken up most enthusiastically. There are now four clubs there, including one composed of officers and men from Camp Lewis, and there are also clubs in Seattle. Spectators at intercity and club matches have been kept on their toes by the thrilling moves and heated play.

"Nolo" is essentially an indoor game, being played principally during the winter months or in the evenings. The game itself is a combination of polo and basketball on horseback, as the following short description will show:

The Nolo, from which the game derives its name, consists of two polo balls joined together by a thong. A team consists of three players, one "forward" and two "backs," each carrying a bamboo stick of a given length and make. The goals are provided in an elevated position at either end of the arena. Chucks, or periods, are of five minutes duration.

The game starts from the centre of the arena, the "forward" from either team secures the Nolo by picking it up on the end of the bamboo stick and the Nolo is passed from one member of the team to another, sometimes by tossing, near the ground, with the object of placing it in the opposing team's goal, they all the time endeavoring to prevent by intercepting the Nolo by knocking it off, or by riding the carrier off from the goal.

Tickets for the horse show are going well, and it is expected that there will be a record crowd in attendance. The proceeds will be divided between the Junior W.A. of the Jubilee Hospital and the Victoria Riding Club's fund for bridle paths.

"THE CHILD"

By REGINALD H. WOODS, M.D. C.M. L.M.C.C.

FAULTS WHICH HINDER HEALTH

This talk is in respect to the boy who was brought to the clinic on Port Street, and had been pronounced "allright" by the parent.

In taking a complete history and making a thorough appraisal of the child, the following faults in his health habits were detected, and advice given for their correction.

Although only four years of age, he was not gaining the benefit of an afternoon rest. An important determinant towards the health of children had been entirely ignored—that of enforcing an afternoon rest period of two hours for every child up to school age. This rule, when adhered to, prevents fatigue, the great bane of growing bodies.

He was sleeping in the same room with his parents. If at all possible, every child should have a bedroom to himself.

I was informed that he ate nothing. He did refuse to eat the greater portion of each meal. The trouble was that on being unsuccessfully urged to eat, an attempt was made to force him to eat. No child will eat (as no horse will drink), on being forced. For children who refuse their food or have a bird-like appetite—the cure is simple, but difficult for an unwise, indulgent parent to carry out. Explain to the child that the food will only remain on the table for ten minutes, at the expiration of this time, remove it, give no desert and nothing (absolutely nothing but fluids), till the next meal. Miraculously, within a week, the appetite will return. However, common sense and a firm stand must supplant indulgence and the belief that if the child does not eat for twenty-four hours he will surely die.

The parent did not make available to this child the great benefits of sunshine and fresh air (to his bare body), in the warm weather. The child did not benefit from being read to, nor from routine little chores about the house, nor from a hobby.

Very little time was spent out of doors, nor was there any stimulus afforded for healthful recreational activity. Judicious activity assures function and harmonious function is synonymous with health.

Tomorrow's health: "Faults in Training."

Y.P.S. News

CENTENNIAL

The Young People's Society of Centennial United Church met on Tuesday in the church parlors with the vice-president, Miss May Johnson, presiding. The meeting opened with a short devotional period, which was followed by the reading of the paper by Bernard Ennals.

The speaker of the evening was C. Ellis, of Hollywood Crescent. Mr. Ellis gave an interesting talk on "Growth." He outlined the progress of growth in all phases of life, and traced the importance of desire in stimulating the growth of production through increasing consumption. Mr. Ellis showed that there is a standard by which all things are measured, and explained that mathematicians have worked out a scale which would serve as a standard by which all commodities could be reckoned. In conclusion he emphasized the importance of having a standard in our religious life as well as in our industrial world.

Many Novelties Made by Blind

Members of the Robert Burns McKicking Chapter, I.O.D.E., have undertaken the sale of handicraft goods, this week, at 1111 Government Street, and a brisk trade was done yesterday. There are baskets of all kinds, useful real leather folders and book covers, charming suede bags, bead novelties, rubber doormats, etc., all made by the blind people of Victoria.

The workmanship is so good that it is difficult to realize that such attractive articles could have been made without eyes. In addition to the display, Mr. A. Varney was demonstrating the reading and writing of Braille, using a Braille typewriting machine.

The shop will be open today and tomorrow and is well worth a visit.

I.O.D.E. Activities

PORTER CHAPTER

The monthly meeting of the Porter Chapter, Chemunus, was held at the home of Mrs. Phillips, Sr., on Tuesday afternoon, with the regent, Mrs. W. W. Southin, in the chair. A letter from the Friendly Help Welfare Society, Victoria, acknowledging a bale of clothing, was read. The quilt was on display. All members are asked to have their ticket books in, complete, to Mrs. J. Russell Robinson, not later than December 13. The sum of $31 was voted for Christmas cheer and relief, to cover Chemunus, Victoria and other Island points. Any further small donations were left in the hands of the officers.

Through the assistance of Mr. Lang, the bale for Peace River went forward direct from Victoria on the free billing to Red Cross Relief Station. This year the St. John's Christmas gift will take the form of Christmas crackers and table napkins. Members who have not already ordered calendars are asked to get in touch with Mrs. A. Porter at once; also anyone who would like a copy of the I.O.D.E. 1934 calendar.

Nomination of officers will take place at the January meeting. Following the regular business, tea was served by the hostess.

Douglas Chapter

The Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter paid a standing tribute to the late Mrs. R. S. Day, at the opening of its meeting, held on Thursday afternoon, also expressing sympathy with Miss Gill in the death of her mother, and with Mrs. W. G. Goepel in her husband's painful accident. All who had assisted in the celebration of the birthday of British Columbia, on November 19, were thanked, including the ladies who appeared in costume, which gave an added charm to the affair, and Dr. Kaye Lamb was thanked for his talk and the historic treasures shown, which were so well suited to the occasion. The reports of the Municipal and Provincial Chapter meeting were brought in, and the educational secretary reported the $5 library had been sent to the Dawson Creek School. A calendar for 1935 will be sent to each of the Peace River schools, also to the Sir James Douglas, Burnside and Beacon Hill Schools.

Five dollars was voted for the usual Christmas gift to the Red Cross Workshop, and the Seaman's Institute, as well as $5 for the Municipal Chapter Christmas hamper fund. The soldiers' graves convener reported having placed a $10 wreath on the War Memorial on Armistice Day. The members were reminded that the nominations for officers will be given in at the next meeting, on January 3.

Blindcraft Goods Are Being Sold

Quite different from all other of the many sales of work that are being held during the pre-Christmas season, is that of the blindcraft goods being offered during the next few days on Government Street. Every article is made by those who cannot see the product of their skillful hands.

The sale is being sponsored by the Robert McKicking Chapter, I.O.D.E., and will be held today, tomorrow and Saturday, at 1111 Government Street. While the standard of goods is high, the prices are quite reasonable and the total amount obtained goes directly to those who made them.

More than fifty persons are registered with the Institute for the Blind in Victoria and district. The service given to these includes Braille, typewriting, handicrafts of all kinds, social visits, shopping for those confined to the house, free street car passes through the courtesy of the B.C. Electric Railway, free radio licences, free passes to theatres operated by the Famous Players Company, free passes to the Crystal Garden, through the kindness of the management, while walking-sticks are given to those who have to find their way through busy streets. Handicrafts will be demonstrated at the salesroom, also Braille reading and writing.

1935 BOARD TO DECIDE POLICY

Entrance to School Problem in Saanich Referred to Incoming Trustees

Whether changes in policy regarding beginners in Saanich schools and related matters suggested by the Saanich Teachers' Federation will be carried out, will be decided by the 1935 school board, the Saanich School Board decided Wednesday night.

Recently the Federation appealed to the board to restrict school entry for beginners to September only, instead of September and February, as at present. The school age suggested was over five years and ten months.

At Wednesday's session, J. Arthur Colbert, Daniel Parfitt, Miss Amelia Brydon and Miss Ellen Simpson interviewed the board and placed arguments in favor of their proposals to the board.

OTHER CHANGES

The teachers also suggested elimination of "A" and "B" grades, and instituting straight grades. They also mooted abolition of January promotions.

It was pointed out by the teachers that it would not affect the children in any detrimental fashion, but would aid them in grasping work more firmly. It was further stated that many children who started school in February were often required to spend from eighteen months to two years in one grade.

Although no vote was taken, various members of the board expressed themselves as being in favor of the proposal. They declared that in passing the matter over to the incoming board, there would be a majority vote from the 1934 board of trustees to deal with the question.

Mexicans Burn Religious Ornaments

Formal announcement was recently made that the States of Chiapas and Tabasco, in Mexico, would observe the anniversary of the Mexican revolution with wholesale religious executions. Enforcement of the Government's church laws have been particularly stringent in both states, and so the announcements had a peculiarly ominous ring that presaged bloodshed and horror. Statues, robes of priests, altar services and other paraphernalia of the church were "executed" on a huge bonfire.

SILVER SLIPPERS

CHAPTER LIII

Farley, packing Joan's trunks in hectic haste at the hotel in Barcelona, had come upon the wedding dress.

She had gone to her mistress, "Do you want to take it with you?"

To Joan, the lovely gown had seemed like the ghost of a dead dream. She remembered what Giles had said, "I don't like to tear it to tatters." Well, the dream was torn to tatters.

She said, a sharp note of pain in her voice: "I don't care what you do with it, Farley. So that I never see it again."

Farley, being thrifty, had taken the gown back to the famous dressmaker, who, knowing a good customer, had been gracious. "We can use it in the trousseau of a bride who has ordered from Australia. Yet it is a pity your lady is not to wear it. And that she is not to marry monsieur. He seemed charming."

Farley had asked, with some surprise, "You saw him?"

"When mademoiselle came for the last fitting—yes."

Farley, puzzled, had asked Joan when she went back to her, "Did Mr. Hallam ever go when you had a fitting?"

"No."

"Monsieur spoke of the last fitting and of a man with you."

"I met Mr. Armiger."

Joan was not quite sure how she felt about Giles. At times she blamed him for his interference—but this, she knew, was in her weaker moments. She had no wish to see him. She wanted nothing but to get away from this strange world of shadows, and find reality, somewhere.

She did not know where she would find it. She only knew that she would hide herself for a time in the old house in Baltimore. She had written to Penelope: "I can't even come to you, my dear, just now. The moon and the sea and the mist would speak to me of things that happened a year ago. My love for Drew is dead. But the old dream—hurts. I wonder if you understand what I mean?"

Yet when they arrived in Baltimore, the frigidity of the old house almost frightened her. It was Spring and there were warm breezes blowing, yet the coldness and emptiness of the big rooms were not tempered by them. "It is dreadful, Farley," Joan said, when they were upstairs, "I don't see how I am going to stand it."

Held in Farley's comforting arms, she sobbed like a child. "Nothing lasts, dear lamb," said the wise old woman, "there isn't any pain that time won't heal. And you know you've done the right thing."

In the ten days that followed, Joan fought her battle of loneliness, and won. She knew the very moment that peace came to her soul. It was on a night early in June when she dreamed again that dream of the man with the cloud about him, his hand upraised, the wind blowing his hair. She had waked to find the moonlight streaming into her room. It showed on a shelf above the fireplace, the little ship that Giles had sent her. She had often wondered why he had sent it. But now she knew. She had been headed for the rocks, and he had wanted to save her. That was what he had once said, that she was a little ship. He had tried to help her make safe harbor.

And suddenly she felt that she was safe, because of what Giles had done for her. He had asked nothing for himself. He had not even written. But he had sent the ship!

She fell asleep quietly after that, and when she waked in the morning, it was to a new world—a world no longer tempestuous—nor shadowed with doubts. She could not have told what had made the difference. She only knew that the old dream was dead and the ache of it gone.

She wrote at once to Penelope. "May I come? And may I leave Farley behind and help you with the work? I want to be on your big aprons, Penelope, and busy myself in your big old kitchen. And are Muffet's kittens all grown up? And are the children still missing me?"

She had talked it over with Farley. "You won't mind, will you, if I leave you here?" And Farley had said, "I know you'll come back to me, and I don't fit in up there with Mrs. Sears. And if you are happy, my lamb, nothing else will matter."

So Joan went back to the house on the bluff, and to the moor and the sea. She went back, too, to the little children, and to old John Leonard and his wife, and to Evelyn.

But most of all, she went back to Penelope, whose strength and sanity were a tonic for her tired nerves. It was Penelope who planned the days for her. There were no other people in the house. Joan had insisted that she would pay all that Penelope would receive if there were other boarders, and that they must be alone. She and Penelope did all the work. Joan, rising early, would ride alone on the moor. Sometimes as she rode in the fog, there would be a shadowy figure beside her—a figure like a king... But she would shake off the illusion and ride on and on until the shadowy figure fled.

Every day she bathed in the sea and walked in the wood, and visited the neighbors, and came back to help Penelope with the supper—"Your scrambled eggs, Penelope, I'm simply ravenous—and the tomatoes in the garden are luscious for a salad."

Muffet's kittens were in the lank and lean stage which comes between puffed infancy and sleek maturity. They followed Joan everywhere, and were imps of mischief. She fed them and fed the chickens and the doves, and every night Muffet went upstairs with her, and slept on a cushion on the window-sill, and waked her in the morning with a velvet paw and purring presence.

So the days went on—days of serene and quiet living. And it was on one of those days that Joan found herself reading the letter which had come to her in Spain, the letter from Giles Armiger, which Farley had found on the floor and had laid away in Joan's desk.

She had discovered it among some papers in a parcel which Farley had put in her trunk. She read it and read it again. Its sentences came to her as freshly as if she had never heard them before.

My dear... you are always that in my heart... and now that I can say that I love you... and you will know I have the right to say it... If you are to be happy, love will mean for you constancy... gentle living... a God in your little home... May I come to you Joan? I could still your heart as Hallam has not stilled it... don't you know this is true? Don't you?

But she had not known it! She laid the letter down and sat looking out of the window. Under her hand the letter seemed a living thing. So Giles had spoken... and she had not listened...

Yet, in spite of her silence, he had not forsaken her. He had watched over her, protected her by his tenderness, and in the end he had saved her.

She knew now from what she had been saved. Withdrawn from the glamor of Drew's presence, she was aware poignantly of his weaknesses—adventurer, philanderer, what hope could she have had for the future with a man of such a present and such a past?

As she laid Giles' letter away she told herself that some day he would come to her. She was not sure when it would be, but he would surely come.

But as the Summer slipped by and she had no word from him, she wondered why? Surely he was still her friend?—She thought of writing to him, but dared not. Suppose he had changed... all men changed... and forgot...

Yet she was not unhappy. She spent much time with the children—with young John Alden and Priscilla, and with their little friends and neighbors whom she had taught to dance.

They danced on the beach during the Summer—mermen and sea maids, nymphs and Neptunes, gay as grigs and looking upon Joan as a fairy princess.

There came a day late in August when there was to be a picnic on the sands, with the children to dance afterwards to the thin music of reed pipes and the deep bass blasts of conch shells.

Joan, helping Penelope beforehand to get the lunch ready, was tied up in a big apron. As she buttered slices of bread, she said, suddenly, "If Drew could see me now."

"You are still thinking of him, my dear?" Penelope, who was frying chickens, turned from the stove to ask the question.

"Yes. He hates things like this. He wanted me to be a grand lady with my head in the air." She was smiling.

Penelope gave her a keen glance. "You can laugh over it, Joan?"

"Oh, yes. And why shouldn't I wear big aprons and butter bread for sandwiches? I did it for years. And I am the same Joan, even if Aunt Adelaide did leave me more money than I know what to do with."

A burglar's wife was being cross-examined.

"Madam, you are the wife of this prisoner?"

"Yes."

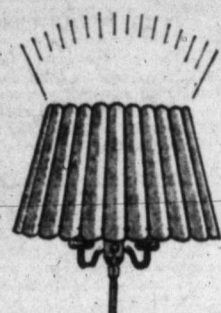

"You knew he was a burglar when you married him?"

"Yes."

"May I ask how you came to marry such an individual?"

"You may," snapped the witness. "I was getting old, and had to choose between a burglar and a lawyer."

LONDON IS WON BY NEW HAMLET

Young Actor Is Declared
Finest of His Time as Melancholy Dane

LONDON.—After showing signs of lassitude the theatrical season has been electrified by John Gielgud's production of "Hamlet," with Gielgud in the chief part. The most experienced of the critics shower eulogies in profusion both upon the presentation generally and the chief actor's performance.

Gielgud, who is about thirty years of age, has played "Hamlet" earlier at the Old Vic and at Sadler's Wells. In other plays, too, he has exhibited a steady growth in artistic development. "Now he establishes himself as the finest Hamlet of our time," says The Daily Telegraph. "I may go further to state there have been few to equal him in the whole long history of the English stage."

RATHER SUPERIOR
Forbes Robertson's presentation of this stupendous part is naturally recalled by several commentators. The Morning Post suggests that Gielgud's conception has not the scabious, appealing, warmly sympathetic character of Robertson's Hamlet. "It is a Hamlet nervously aloof, rather superior, but it is intense and intelligent, full of little points and intonations that one wants to hear all over again."

Next to Gielgud in merit is George Howe as Polonius—a trim little dried-up specimen of a Court Chamberlain. The box office of the New Theatre is busy with bookings for weeks ahead. "At last there is a good modern play running in town," is the witty comment of one hardened first-nighter.

Japanese Detain British Steamer

TOKIO, Dec. 6 (AP).—Japanese naval authorities detained the British freighter Langlebrook, under charter by the Soviet Government, today, because it entered port in the Pescadore Islands, near the Makao naval base, said a Reno (Japanese) News Agency dispatch.

The dispatch from Takohu, Isle of Formosa, said the vessel's captain, Tom Brown, claimed he was taking freight from a storm. The Langlebrook is carrying grain from Odessa to Vladivostok.

SUNDAY SCHOOL OFFICERS NAMED

The First Baptist Church Sunday School teachers and officers held their monthly meeting in the form of a supper meeting on Tuesday evening at the church. After supper the nominating committee read the list of officers for the following year, which was as follows:

Superintendent, O. M. Brown; assistant superintendent, Mrs. W. P. Freeman; secretary-treasurer, Miss Nora Gibson; birthday secretary, Miss Agnes Fylyton; pianist, Mrs. O. M. Brown; assistant pianist, Miss Doris Bennett; C.G.I.T. director, Miss M. Beveridge; primary department superintendent, Miss M. Freeman; cradle roll superintendent, Mrs. Ebert; home department, superintendent, Mrs. Birckett; temperance programme convenor, Miss H. Hamilton, and press reporter, Miss D. Liddon.

It was then arranged to have the Christmas entertainment on Friday, December 28, in the Sunday schoolroom.

Police Seize Opium and Arrest Five

VANCOUVER, Dec. 6 (CP).—Royal Canadian Mounted Police tonight seized forty tins of opium, valued at $4,000, and arrested five Chinese, who were charged with attempting to smuggle the drug ashore from the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Japan.

The opium, packed in eight-ounce tins, was seized after it had been unloaded from the ship on to the dock at Pier "B," where the vessel is berthed.

Tonight's seizure was the first made on the docks in months. In the past, the drug has usually been discovered on board ship.

War and Diplomacy
Eastern Railroads

Advance of Russian Influence Following Construction Led to First Russia-Japan Conflict—Germany Favored by Nippon at Present

"The negotiations between Japan and the Soviets for the purchase of the Chinese Eastern Railway have once again been opened. What will the results be?"

"It was in 1895 that one of the most celebrated Russian ministers, Count Witte, who was at that time only Minister of Transports, found himself in a dilemma—how to terminate the Trans-Siberian Railway at Vladivostok, by going round Manchuria or going across. In proceeding the latter way the saving was very considerable in expenditure and also by making the line direct and shortening it by about 500 miles.

"In 1896 another celebrated diplomat, Li Hung-Chang, was representing China in Russia at the crowning of the unfortunate Nicholas II. Count Witte took advantage of this very excellent opportunity to obtain from China the necessary concessions. It was in Berlin that the definite negotiations took place and a private society was created for this purpose.

"In 1903 the Eastern Railroad of China started working. The developing of this region, the direct communication with Port Arthur, Dairen and Vladivostok, and the influence that Russia had obtained in the Far East brought about the Russia-Japan War.

"Already at this time the United States was proposing to internationalize all the Manchurian railways. Then came the Great War of 1914, and after that the Bolshevik regime. For some years the railways had passed through the hands of different nations, the Chinese, the Allies and the Japanese, when, in 1924, in October, the Soviets took it over again.

"At the opening of the negotiations Japan wished to come to a friendly solution, and proposed to buy a part of the railway between Manchuria and Pootung, which represented an interest of the greatest importance to Japan, especially at present when the newly-created state of Manchukuo is entirely in the Japanese sphere. At that time the price asked by the Soviets was 200,000,000 gold roubles; the Japanese offered 20,000,000. At present the price asked and that offered are 60,000,000 and 50,000,000, respectively.

"In the meantime, the two countries are concentrating on one side sending notes to the Soviets and negotiating with Germany, on the other side the concentration of troops by the Soviets. What would be the result of a war between Russia and Japan? If Japan would be unquestionably stronger on the field of battle, she cannot compete with the aerial army of the Soviets.

"Until about 1926-27 it was Germany who was the principal supplier of airplanes to the Soviets, but little by little the Soviet industry developed in such a way that today they have no further need to resort to Germany.

"With the installation of the Hitler regime, which was exactly contrary to the Russian Bolsheviks' ideas, a natural friend presented herself to Japan, for Japan until today is obliged to resort to foreign countries to supply her with aviation motors, and more than half of her orders in this line have been given to Germany.

CHANGE SITUATION

"The defeat of Russia would be of the greatest advantage in Germany, who, since the Bolshevik Peace in 1917, has been coveting the Ukraine, and if the Ukraine came under German rule, it would change the whole situation for the European Orient.

"But would the question be as to whether the aerial defence of Japan, or their counter attack, would be able to intervene soon enough, and from this point of view an alliance or a special accord with Germany would be of extreme importance for Japan. Unquestionably Germany on her side has tendered a hand to her new friend in the Far East.

"At the School of Oriental Languages in Berlin an ever increasing number of German students are learning Japanese. German engineers and air pilots are going to Japan, and all European countries where Japanese students have been studying have remarked on their decreasing numbers, whereas in Germany it is just the reverse."

THREE FLAGS
REPRESENTED

German, Italian and Danish Vessels Here Today—Ruth Alexander In

Three flags will be represented by shipping at Ogden Point Pier, today, if the fog enshrouding Mainland ports lifts, enabling the vessels to get away. They will all load lumber. Probably the first to dock will be the Portland, of the Hamburg American Line, which will load 715,000 feet for the United Kingdom. Following the Portland will be the Cipro, Italian Line, which will take on 400,000 feet of lumber for London, and the Danish freighter Astoria, loading 750,000 feet of lumber for the United Kingdom.

King Brothers, shipping agents, who are representing the ships mentioned, stated yesterday that some twelve freighters are set for arrival at the assembly plant before the end of the month to load lumber, the majority of them for ports in the United Kingdom.

Docking at 11 o'clock, last evening, from California ports, the Pacific Steamship Lines Sa. Ruth Alexander brought in a number of Island and Mainland travelers and discharged about fifty tons of general cargo before proceeding to Seattle shortly after midnight. The Ruth Alexander will be here again tomorrow night, southbound.

From the United Kingdom by way of Panama and California, the Donaldson refrigerator ship Corrientes is due here on Sunday, according to A. E. Shanks, of Rithet consolidated, agents for the line, having received word from the captain to that effect yesterday. The Corrientes has general freight for discharge here as well as a shipment of bananas.

Vancouver Shipping

VANCOUVER, Dec. 6 (CP).—Thirty deep-sea ships floated, today, in the harbors of Burrard Inlet, English Bay and the Fraser River, several being delayed by the heavy fog which hung over the harbors yesterday and today.

The French freighter Leopold L. D. was anchored in the stream, fully loaded, awaiting a chance to sail for Australia; Ms. Hye Maru, of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, with passengers, mails and freight, was delayed by the fog.

On English Bay, Sa. Anglo-Columbian, inbound to Anglo-Canadian Shipping Company, from London, was waiting at anchor, while Sa. Shelton, of Tacoma-Oriental Line, inbound to load for China, was also anchored and waiting the lifting of the fog.

The French Line Sa. Wisconsin and Sa. Rossington Court were in the Fraser River, delayed in reaching their berths owing to the heavy mist. The British freighter Langlet was waiting on the river, hoping for a chance to get to sea, bound for Japan.

STOWAWAYS

Men Awaiting Deportation Pick Lock, Overpower Guard and Escape

NEW WESTMINSTER, Dec. 6 (CP).—Five stowaways arrested in Vancouver, November 21, and placed aboard the British steam freighter, Langlet, for deportation by immigration authorities, escaped from the vessel here, today. Two were captured later by police, but the other three remained at large.

When the Langlet docked at Vancouver two weeks ago, police were informed of the presence of the stowaways, of whom there were seven, all Europeans. Five were captured after an intensive search of the ship's holds and adjacent docks. Two escaped, and it is believed they slipped over the side of the ship and swam ashore. No trace of them has been found.

The arrested men were ordered deported on the same ship, and were detained by immigration officers until placed aboard the Langlet, at New Westminster, last night, being locked in a cabin in the forecastle and kept under guard.

STILL AT LARGE

Police reported the men picked the lock, overpowered the guard and escaped. Police were notified and G. Bartholomew and Guido Cecconi, both Italians, were captured an hour and a half later. Jasko Aldridge and Joseph Knek, Jugoslavs, and Albert Naitnik, Hungarian, are still at large.

One of the captured men was alleged to have had a knife in his possession when arrested.

The seven stowaways were found aboard the Langlet nearly four months ago, shortly after the vessel left Oran, Algeria. Captain J. Smith tried to land them at every port of call in India and the Orient, but none would accept them.

Passing of Alloway Survivor Awakens Some Memories in Shipmate

Incidents connected with the loss of the freighter Alloway on the grim Aleutian Islands in February, 1929, were recalled yesterday by D. McVie, in telling of the part played on that occasion by Glen "Red" Oliver, one of the crew at the time, who died here last Sunday evening as the result of an automobile accident and was buried on Wednesday.

McVie and Oliver were shipmates on the Alloway. The freighter had been sold to Japanese interests and was on her way to Japan for scrapping when she broke down and was abandoned near Unimak Pass, the crew of thirty-four taking to the remaining boats after two had been smashed in the attempt to launch them.

When the Alloway was ready to sail, McVie related, she came to Victoria, where ten members of the crew, American citizens, left the ship short-handed, refusing to go any farther aboard her. Ten Victorians volunteered to take their places for the passage then and were signed on.

Getting away at last, trouble started almost immediately, the steering-gear broke and she took on a considerable list. She put into Port Angeles, and from there went to Seattle after the steering-gear had been put right, and loaded 100,000 feet of lumber which straightened her up for the time being.

AS BAD AS EVER

Off "pe" lattery, the cargo again gave trouble, and the list developed as bad as ever, but the ship continued on her course, and six days or the boilers refused to work and the engine became useless, the ship drifting at the mercy of the weather. Added to the peril of the waves breaking over the vessel, the water tanks were broken in and there was no fresh water aboard.

Drifting for several days, early on the morning of February 12, 1929, Oliver, who was on duty at the wheel, was sent forward to keep a close lookout for land. He was the first to spot the breakers, then about two miles distant. The captain ordered the boats out and told the men to get ready to abandon the ship. Oliver was told to go in the first boat, and two others, had followed him, when the boat went to the water with a rush and they were spilled out into the water. They managed to get away in it, however.

Then two more lifeboats were lowered, and both were smashed against the sides of the ship, leaving only one remaining boat to carry thirty-one men. The boats that got away with the crew were adrift about five hours, when the American Main Line freighter Montauk, Captain Healey, picked them up. McVie states they were all well nigh in from exposure, but the Chinese crew of the Montauk, who rescued them with considerable difficulty, also made everything comfortable for them.

They were landed at Dutch Harbor, and spent five days in a bunkhouse there, when they boarded the United States coastguard cutter Cheilan, which took them to Seattle, from where they were sent to Victoria.

FILM VERSION OF NOVEL SCREENED

"A Girl of the Limberlost" Currently Showing at the Dominion Theatre

Seldom has a local picture opening been awaited with such local interest as that of "A Girl of the Limberlost," which comes to the Dominion Theatre today for a run of three days.

The reason for the enthusiasm is the great popularity of Gene Stratton-Porter's novel, and the fact that the coming screenplay is adapted from one of the best sellers. More than 1,750,000 copies of the novel have been sold since it was first published in 1910, and it is estimated that it has been read by more than 12,000,000 persons.

Playing the dramatic role of the mother is Louise Dresser, one of the screen's leading portrayals of mother roles, who will be remembered for her sterling performances in "The Goose Woman" and "Mother Knows Best." Ralph Morgan plays the sympathetic role of Wesley Sinton, while Marian Marsh portrays the title role. Others in the cast are: Helen Jerome Eddy, Henry B. Walthall,

"VAN TIES" OPEN TODAY AT EMPIRE

Harry Berry's Revue Starts Three-Day Engagement in City This Afternoon

This afternoon at the Empire Theatre, Harry Berry's well-known and deservedly popular "Sunkist Vanities" will open a Victoria engagement of three days. The revue will be shown again this evening, three times tomorrow, Monday afternoon, and its stars will give the special midnight matinee on Sunday, the doors to open Monday at 12:01 a.m.

This revue comes to Victoria with the praise of reviewers in many cities, and the plaudits of hundreds of theatre fans still ringing. It attracted thousands of persons during its tour across the Continent from Chicago and New York and up the Pacific Coast from Los Angeles.

The girls' band, entitled "Eight Sweethearts of Syncopation," has been exceptionally popular. Members of this band are all talented musicians in their own right and are soloists of no mean repute. Each will be specially featured during the local engagement.

A gymnastic trio, the Fuller Brothers and their sister, perform a number of outstanding acts that are novel and different. Count Cassell-Checas and "Fanny" are featured in a comedy act that is guaranteed to set the audiences laughing uproariously.

One week was required for filming this one dance number, and for the illumination, nearly 400 large lights were employed.

On the contrary, he was prone, when in doubt, to bid "just one more," especially when in so doing he could arrive at a game contract. Being an earnest student of the game, he called upon a friend of his to kibitz a duplicate game and diagnose his trouble. At the end of the session his friend made the following pronouncement:

"You have evolved one of the most effective devices I have ever seen to ease yourself out of the game; that is, the weak negative double followed by a pass of your partner's response. Do you remember this hand?"

"You remember that East opened with one heart. In the South seat you doubled. West passed, and your partner bid two diamonds. Now when East passed, you also passed."

"But," interrupted the player, how can I bid any more on my hand? I have already made a strong bid in making a takeout double. I had, of course, hoped that my partner could respond with spades, in which case I might have assisted. But he surely denied holding four spades, and as he happened to bid into my second best suit, I felt I should pass and keep out of trouble."

"Well," continued his mentor, "don't you see that you actually can make five diamonds? You certainly would want to play it for that contract since you have to win only one of two finesse. How do you suggest that you arrive there if you are going to pass your partner's response to your double?"

"Look at my partner's hand! He has much more than I can assume from a minimum diamond overcall. Obviously he should have made a jump takeout."

"That course is not obvious to me at all. Do you mean to say that you are always going to be dependent upon a jump takeout for the guidance of your subsequent bidding after you have made a takeout double? Surely you realize that there will be many hands on which your partner will have enough top strength to want to go to game after your double, without having a pattern that will fix the best declaration without further discussion. Look at the North hand with unprejudiced eye. North knows that you probably are angling for a

FOOD MATINEE TO BE HELD DEC. 15

Both Capitol and Dominion Theatres Will Be Scenes of Special Christmas Shows

The Victoria Daily Colonist, with the co-operation of The Victoria Daily Times and the Famous Players Canadian Corporation, will hold a food matinee, at the Capitol and Dominion Theatres, on Saturday, December 15.

Admission to the shows will be by canned food or toys only. Although primarily arranged for children, adults will also be admitted if they bring along their contributions.

A fine programme, including "Western Films," Mickey Mouse and other cartoons, and "Our Gang" comedies, will be presented at this special Saturday matinee.

The food collected at the door will go to swell the Gyo Club Christmas hamper fund, while the toys will be turned over to the Boy Scouts' Toy Hospital, 623 Yates Street, and will later be distributed to needy children of Greater Victoria.

A similar performance, held last year, was an outstanding success, so many contributions being received that several trucks were required to haul them away. In view of the increased need this Christmas, or-spade takeout and he has only three spades. He cannot himself bid the suit, but if you were to make a free spade bid over his diamond takeout he would seriously have to consider assisting the spades on his pattern and general strength.

At the same time, he would like to get a chance to show the clubs as well. The bidding that he would naturally anticipate after his two-diamond takeout would be: two spades or two no trump by you, three clubs by him, three diamonds or three no trump or four clubs by you, whereupon his cards would dictate a return to spades if you had previously bid the suit. Can he afford to cut out a round of bidding that may be vital to this process by jumping at once to three diamonds?

He must allow, of course, for the possibility that you have extraordinary and game-going support for clubs and also for the possibility that by bidding no trump twice you may warn him off any insistence upon a suit declaration.

"No, you cannot shift the blame to your partner in this case. You were fortunate on the two other occasions that you made weak negative doubles and then passed your partner's bid because there was no game for you in either of those hands, but I think you must recognize that it is much worse to double and run on these weak hands than either to pass and hope that your partner can take action, or to take immediate action yourself by way of a defensive overcall on a weak suit fortified with side strength."

With this diagnostician's views I am in full accord.

Hockey Game Seen In Latest Edition Of Colonist News

ONE of the fastest hockey games of the season is shown on the Dominion Theatre screen in The Colonist Universal Newsreel, which starts today. The Toronto Maple Leafs carry their team to victory over New York Americans in a thrilling battle which had the fans out of their seats with excitement.

Other glimpses of worldwide news interest include the arrival of tons of herring to English fishing ports as the trawlers steam in. Battle manoeuvres on the Pacific Coast test the defensive powers of anti-aircraft machine guns. Football at its best is seen in the struggle between Yale and the Tigers, in which Yale staged an unexpected upset, snatching victory in a hard-fought game. Other flashes show stunts, ceremonial and excitement from all parts of the globe.

SCOTTISH PLAYERS TO RETURN HERE SHORTLY

The return of the Scottish Musical Players to Victoria during Christmas week, will be a pleasing announcement to those who enjoyed so much their presentations a year ago. The company will open on Wednesday (Boxing Day), with "Bonnie Prince Charlie," the young chieftain who came to regain the throne of the Stuarts.

Salmon will play the part of the prince, while Mary McMahon, whose dramatic and colorful singing has been the highlight of these Scottish productions, will play the role of Flora MacDonald. Only one change is to be noted in the personnel of the company, and that is the absence of Nat Dixon, who passed away last Summer. Gordon Douglas, a fine baritone singer, is the new member of the company, and he is the "Lawrence Tibbett" of the company.

Jensen, her regular commander, has been appointed to take the company's liner S.S. President Harrison on a round-the-world trip. It was learned here yesterday.

If December 7 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11:15 a.m. to 1:15 p.m. from 3:15 to 5:15 p.m. and from 8:15 to 10:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 9:15 to 11:15 a.m. from 5:15 to 7:15 p.m. and from 10:15 p.m. until midnight.

Watch the pennies on this December 7, for there may be the temptation to let money dribble away in small amounts that in the aggregate are likely to become a fairly substantial sum. Conditions conducive to waste of time, material and money can only be prevented from prevailing by prudent management and exercising vigilance. Glib speech will break down sales resistance, unless common sense is used in trade transactions. Holding fast to high ideals in both social and business contacts on this date will probably prevent a slip that might cause keen regret. There is a possibility that Dame Fortune has a pleasant surprise up her sleeves for you in either the form of an unexpected gift of some sort, or money. An invitation well worth the accepting will probably be extended to you. Married and engaged couples, as well as those making love in hope of being accepted, can avoid friction by not attempting to direct their adored one's personal actions in matters that are not of mutual concern.

If a woman and December 7 is your birthday, your business judgment should be well balanced and your foresight keen. Montreal Maroons Defeat Americans In Decisive Style

Turn on Power and Speed in Registering 8-2 Victory Over New York Club—Marker Nets Trio—Normie Himes Out of Line-Up With Broken Jaw

MONTREAL, Dec. 6 (CP).—A speedy Montreal Maroon team that could not seem to do anything wrong, tonight, sped to a 8-2 victory over New York Americans in the first round of the city badminton finals. The Maroons, who mark a fifth straight win of the season and consolidate their hold on second position in the Canadian section standing of the National Hockey League. Americans were weakened by the absence of their star centre, Normie Himes, out with a broken jaw.

Maroons scored twice in the first three minutes when Cain netted the rubber on Smith's pass, and Shields followed a minute later with a goal on a relay from Baldy Northcott and Paul Haynes.

A lucky goal that bounced into the net of Baldy Northcott's stick midway through the first period, brought Americans up to within a goal of the Maroons.

Red Conn got credit for the score. Stew Evans scored on Smith's pass a few minutes before the end of the period.

Before the second period ended, Earl Robinson and Gus Marker widened the Maroon margin to four goals. This lead was reduced slightly at the sixteen-minute mark by

VERNON GOMEZ HAS BIG YEAR ON THE MOUND

Slim Southpaw of New York Yankees Is Outstanding Pitcher of Season

CHICAGO, Dec. 6 (AP).—He couldn't pitch New York Yankees to the American League championship all alone, but Vernon Gomez, Manager Joe McCarthy's prize southpaw, accumulated a large share of the hurling honors.

Gomez led the league in victories, twenty-six against five defeats, and had the best-earned run average, 2.33. In addition, although far from being the huskiest moundsman in the circuit, he pitched the most innings, 282, led in complete games with twenty-five, and on nine occasions held his opposition to five hits or less. He also struck out 158 batsmen for the leadership in that department, and did not hit a man.

ROWE IS NEXT

Lynwood "Schoolboy" Rowe, ace of the champion Detroit Tigers, was runner-up to Gomez in the percentage column with twenty-four victories and eight defeats, while Mel Harder, Cleveland's young curve-ball artist, had the second-best earned run mark, 2.61. Johnny Allen, of the Yankees, turned in an

The first bout will start at 8:30 o'clock.

Many New Players Will Be Seen in English Line-Ups

Cooper, International Star, to Appear on Liverpool's Team Tomorrow—Other Transfers Take Place—Important Fixtures in Scottish First Division

LONDON, Dec. 5 (CP).—While the last of the preliminaries in the English Cup are being cleared up, English Soccer League elevens will endeavor Saturday to clarify the gummed-up races for the championship and promotion.

Many new faces will be seen in the line-ups following important transfers. Derby's great international, T. Cooper, goes to Liverpool on payment of a fee estimated between $30,000 and $35,000.

The Arsenal has signed on W. H. Webster, the Corinthian, and Clare from Harrington, while J. McLuckie goes from Manchester United to Aston Villa.

Two of the three teams deadlocked at the top of the First Division League table are drawn away Saturday, the Gunners going to Huddersfield Town and Stoke City to the Spurs, while Sunderland

COMPOS SET NEW FIVEPIN CITY RECORD

Colonist Trundlers Topple 1,398 Pins During Match at Arcade Alleys

Pushing the pins into the pits for a total of 1,398 in their final game, Harry Buckle's Colonist Compos fivepin bowling squad set up a new city team mark, last night, at the Arcade Alleys, while trundling in the Senior Fivepin Bowling League against the Daily Colonist aggregation. The Compos erased the record established a few weeks ago by the Pacific Meat Company, at the Olympic Alleys, when the latter quintette went to work and toppled 1,378 pins.

The Compos lost the first two games to their friendly rivals, but in the last they finished 280 pins in front. Andy Anderson showed the way with a score of 381, while Bert Pickup had 298, Charlie Chislett 265, Dave Clarke 256, and Harry Buckle 204. Anderson had eight strikes in succession in garnering his high total.

Another unofficial record was made at the alleys—not very important, but worth mentioning—the Colonist Scribes won their second and third games of the season, from Poodle Dog Cafe. It looks as if the Scribes have finally hit their stride. They should be dangerous contenders in the second-half campaign.

Scores follow:

Daily Colonist—W. Norris, 640; W. Dunn, 661; A. Benn, 597; E. Borde, 570; J. Houghton, 560. Total, 3,227.

Colonist Compos—D. Clarke, 614; H. Buckle, 608; H. Buckle, Sr., 555; A. Anderson, 572; C. Chislett, 594. Total, 3,232.

Daily Colonist won two.

TITLEHOLDERS FOR YEAR TO BE NAMED ON WILLOWS COURTS

Des Bleasdale Already Declared Men's Champion When Drennan Hincks Is Forced From Tournament Through Shoulder Injury—Jean Campbell and Doreen Swayne in Final

City badminton champions for the 1934-35 season will be crowned at the Willows courts this evening, when the finals in all divisions, except the men's singles, will be played. Play will commence at 7:30 o'clock, with a semi-final in the men's open doubles, and will continue until the handicap doubles matches, billed to start at 10 o'clock, are concluded.

Misfortune crept into the path of Drennan Hincks, defending champion, when he pulled a tendon in his right shoulder during his doubles match with R. A. and J. P. Phillips, and was forced to retire from further play in the tournament. Partnered with W. E. Corfield, Hincks and his partner won the first set 15-12, but had to retire shortly after, when the latter player injured his shoulder.

With Hincks out of the picture owing to his misfortune, Des Bleasdale was declared city champion. In order not to disappoint the fans, officials in charge of the tournament have arranged for the new titleholder to play an exhibition match with Eric Loney, leading Vancouver Island player, this evening.

SCORES UPSET

Miss N. Woodward and Miss M. Sluggett, who created an upset Wednesday, continued to ride along in the van of winning players by defeating Miss M. Benson and Miss I. Benson, leading Willows women's team, 9-15, 15-12, 15-7. The Brentwood pair surprised the gallery by their play and drew a good hand as they left the court.

In the mixed doubles division, Miss M. Hughes and R. A. Phillips, of the Willows Club, came from behind to defeat Miss H. Nicholson and Ross Hocking, recently crowned Victoria Garrison Club champions, in a great three-set match, to score another upset.

Miss Jean Campbell, defending champion, and Miss Doreen Swayne, strong Garrison player, finalists last year, will battle it out again for the championship. Both players won their semi-final matches yesterday in decisive fashion.

Mrs. MacDonald, wife of the president of the Willows Club, will present the prizes at the conclusion of this evening's finals.

PEDEN'S TEAM BACK IN LEAD

Torchy and Mates Showing Way in Minneapolis Grind by Full Lap

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 6 (AP).—Staging a thrilling rally in a series of sprints and jams, the Canadian team of Peden, Audy and Lepage pedaled into the lead of the six-day bike race, tonight, as the fiftieth hour passed at 11 p.m.

In sixth place, this morning, four laps behind the German-Dutch team of Kilian, Vopel and Van Kempen, the Canadians picked up four laps by spectacular riding. It was the first time in twenty-four hours that the German-Dutch trio had relinquished the lead.

The fast pace set by the riders of the Maple Leaf, however, almost resulted in disaster, when a tire puncture caused Jules Audy to crash into another rider. Although considerably bruised, the flashy little Montrealer was able to continue.

Vancouver and Seattle Hockey Players Share Scoring Honors in Northwest Loop

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 6 (AP).—Despite strong pressure to avoid further controversy over United States participation in the 1936 Olympic Games at Berlin, based on charges of German discrimination against Jewish athletes, opposition to the country's formal acceptance of Germany's invitation probably will be carried to the floor of the Amateur Athletic Union's annual convention, starting here, tomorrow.

The A.A.U. went on record at its Pittsburgh convention, last year, as being strongly opposed to sanctioning America's entry in the 1936 games so long as evidence of alleged German racial unfairness in athletics existed. Delegates arriving tonight indicated there is still considerable question over Germany's attitude or good faith on the Jewish issue, despite the assurances brought back from Europe last Summer by Avery Brundage, president of the American Olympic Association as well as chief executive of the A.A.U.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

Simultaneous Whistling and Singing—Werner Heymann, European composer, now in Hollywood, started composing as a child prodigy in Germany. At the age of ten he discovered he could whistle and sing at the same time. His musical training enables him either to whistle one song and sing the accompaniment or counterpoint, or do two different numbers at the same time. One of his most remarkable demonstrations of this unusual gift is the rendition of a Bach fugue, this number starts as a solo and after eight bars the second instrument comes in, starting at the beginning.

Formidable Teams To Take Field in Important Tussle

Victoria City and Victoria West Fielding Best Elevens for Football Fixture at Royal Athletic Park—To Start at 2 o'clock—"Scotty" Robinson to Be Missing

Football's spotlight will be focused on the Royal Athletic Park, tomorrow afternoon, where Victoria West and Victoria City, first division elevens, will clash in the Milton Cup final. Dave McMillan has been named as referee and will get the teams into action at 2 o'clock. In case of a draw, thirty minutes overtime will be played.

The greenhorns advanced to the final by reason of their victory over the Saanich Thistles, league leaders, while the City gained the right to meet the Wests by disposing of Esquimalt in the semi-final round. The cup fixture is the only first division match scheduled. In the second division, Victoria City will meet the Saanich Thistles, at Beacon Hill, upper ground, with A. McKay as referee. The match will commence at 2:30 o'clock.

CITY LINE-UP

Victoria City's starting line-up, announced after yesterday evening's workout at the Veterans of France, will see Alf. Hood between the sticks, with Stoffer and Halkett as full-backs. Hood turned in a spectacular performance against Esquimalt in the Milton Cup semi-final and should prove quite a stumbling block to his former teammates tomorrow. With Glen Robbins in the pivot position and Eddie Gibson at left half-back and Moore on the right, the City will have their regular intermediate rank in action.

The front rank will see Les Gibbons in the right lane, Earl Barnswell at inside right and Hodgson at centre-forward. The Payne brothers, Jack and George, will look after the left wing. Tommy Smith and C. Robbins are the substitutes.

Dr. Foynt, manager of the Victoria West team, was unable to name his starting line-up yesterday evening, but has thirteen players who will be ready to uphold the honor of the veteran football club.

Tommy Restall, brilliant young net minder, will be in his usual position, while Roper and Doug Laird are expected to start as full-backs. The half-back line is unknown, but in all probability it will be Lorandini, Barnes and Dave Stewart.

ROBINSON OUT

"Scotty" Robinson, sharpshooting forward, is definitely out of the line-up with an injured knee. However, with Gordie Bell, Harry Youson, Terry Peers, Harold Storey, "Shorty" Collins, H. Thompson and J. Painter available for the front line, the West's management feels confident of being able to produce a scoring forward line that will prove capable of defeating the Victoria City squad.

The fixture promises to produce plenty of good football and should attract a good following of soccer fans to the local enclosure.

The Wests, by reason of their record this season, will be favored to win the match, but supporters of the Victoria City eleven look to their club to come through with a victory and win the coveted Milton Cup.

WHAT WILL THEY SAY?

Elmer Layden, coach of Notre Dame, will visit alumni clubs in San Francisco, Seattle and Portland after the Notre Dame-Southern California game at Los Angeles December 8.

Deans Will Win Fifty Games, States Dizzy

Talkative Mound Ace of St. Louis Cardinals Makes Broad Statement About Next Season—Paul Wants Salary of $12,000 for 1935

BRADENTON, Fla., Dec. 6 (AP).—"Me and Paul are gonna win fifty games next year."

That should clinch the 1935 National League pennant for the world champion St. Louis Cardinals, for who would make such a statement but Jerome Herman "Dizzy" Dean?

"I just accepted terms with the Cardinals, which means the old pennant is in the bag for our ball club," Dean announced. In a telephone conversation, yesterday, with Sam Breadon, president of the Cardinals, at St. Louis, things were patched up.

"With me and Paul brestin' 'em across next year, there ain't nothing that can keep the Cardinals from the top."

"Dizzy" declined to say exactly how much those fifty games would cost the Cardinals, but announced his salary would be "between $20,000 and $25,000."

"Since I won thirty games for $8,500 last year, and I'm gonna be paid more than twice that much next season, I reckon you could figure me good for ninety games in 1935, if you really wanted to figure, the 'great one' said."

NOT HARD TASK

"But that sounds crazy and old Dizzy ain't making any impossible statements, so tell the folks that me and Paul are goin' to win at least fifty games next year. That's ain't many ball games for us Deans to win one year."

"Dizzy" said all his negotiations to the present with the Cardinals have been devoted to his own salary, and that the matter of getting brother Paul signed would have to come up later.

Paul wants $12,000, "Dizzy" said, which is well above the terms offered by the Cardinals. But "Dizzy" doesn't expect Paul to have "any trouble" reaching a satisfactory agreement.

"Mr. Breadon has treated me nice and he'll do the right thing by Paul too," the elder Dean declared.

Remember When

(Twenty-Five Years Ago)

Victoria West wins the first basketball game of the season. By 22 to 18, the V.M.C.A. seniors, two years local champions, and practically invincible for that period; went down to defeat before the green-jerseyed lads from across the harbor. The match took place at the Assembly Hall rink before a good crowd. It wasn't a particularly good exhibition.

The champions looked like real winners in the first half. They romped about the hall like school kids enjoying recess. Carelessly quick in their combination, and fairly accurate in shooting, the Wests appeared outclassed. Certainly the indications, at this stage, were that the cupholders would have another clinch. The half ended with Physical Director W. G. Findlay's youngsters leading, score, 9 to 7.

Victoria will, next Saturday night, be given a rare treat in the moving picture line, when the big Ketchell-Johnson match, which recently took place at Cofroth's arena, Mission Street, San Francisco, will be shown for a one-night stand at the Victoria Theatre.

These pictures were taken to the best advantage, and while Johnson plainly outclassed Ketchell, the latter landed several crashing blows on the black man. Johnson, at the end of the fight, is quoted as saying that Ketchell was the only man who really succeeded in hurting him, and, as he nursed his swollen jaw, he remarked:

"That boy do sure enough hit hard, and if he had been a little taller and heavier I might right now have been a has-been."

Saanich Goalie Is in Hospital

Thistles goalie, injured in last week's game, is resting in the Jubilee Hospital with an injured groin. Chalmers, according to reports, is expected to remain in the institution for about ten days and will, in all probability, be out of the game until after Christmas.

Strangler in Draw

LONDON, Dec. 6 (AP).—Ed (Strangler) Lewis, of Los Angeles, was held to a draw at the Stadium Club last night by Daniel O'Moloney, 240-pound Irish wrestler, in five-minute rounds.

Although but a youngster, O'Moloney is regarded as the finest prospect in the British Isles for the world title. Lewis gained a fall just as the bell ended the third round, but the referee did not allow it.

OSMUNDSON NETS TRIO

Former Local Player Hero of Detroit Win—Beavers, Cubs Triumph

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 6 (CP).—After being tied or beaten in their last eight starts, the Detroit Olympics tonight handed Buffalo Bisons a 5-1 defeat in a fast, rough International Hockey League battle, before some five thousand fans.

Ossie Osmundson, Olympic forward, shares scoring honors with his teammate, Wally Kilrea. Osmundson scored three goals and on all three, in addition to scoring a goal himself.

Olympics jumped into the lead in the first period, on Osmundson's first counter, scored with Berlett in the box. Sammy Godin evened the count in the second period, and when Berlett drew his second penalty, Foster scored to give Detroit a lead it never relinquished.

Art Berlett drew a major penalty, in the last period, for slashing Harold Starr, and while the defence-man was serving his time, Osmundson got his third goal, again aided by Kilrea.

CUBS BEAT EAGLES

BOSTON, Dec. 6 (AP).—Boston Cubs regained top place in the Canadian-American Hockey League by turning back New Haven Eagles, 4-3, here tonight.

Jean Fuste, former Pacific Coast star, down for seasoning from Boston Bruins, made his first start for the Cubs, and teamed with Joe Jerwa, on defence, in impressive fashion. Blake, P. Jerwa, Carrigan and Bill Bessler, scored for the winners. Alex Mother got an assist on Blake's goal and Pinkie Davis assisted on Jerwa's counter. Maracle, Gray and Holmes scored for the Eagles.

BEAVERS WIN

QUEBEC, Dec. 6 (AP).—For the second time in three days, Philadelphia Arrows were repulsed here tonight in their efforts to take a Canadian-American Hockey League game on Quebec Beavers' ice.

Quebec won, 4-2. Dick Toupin, Buckles, Wilson and Ledue scored for Quebec, and Hudson and Saunders counted for Arrows.

Maritime Hockey Teams Reaching West for Players to Bolster Clubs

AMHERST, N.S., Dec. 6 (CP).—"Raids made by the Big Four mercantile teams, upon the ranks of hockey organizations in Western Canada, will spell certain trouble for the Big Four group," declared President James Wry, of the Maritime Amateur Hockey Association, tonight.

President Wry was in accord with President E. A. Gilroy, of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, and stated he could not see how these men, taken from organized teams in Winnipeg and Selkirk, could play in Eastern Canada this winter.

"They might take positions for the winter months and be available for sport next winter, but it will be impossible for them to appear with the Maritime clubs this winter," President Wry asserted.

His outburst was prompted by word from Winnipeg that "Duke" Campbell, Johnny Templeton and

"WE MUST ALL HANG TOGETHER."

It has been scientifically established that one of the essential differences between man and the lower animals is that man has a sense of humor.

There is no denying that this sense of humor is one of the most undownable instincts. Like a cork, it cannot be kept under. Constantly it bobs up, frequently saving the most tense situations.

It was under just such circumstances that this line under consideration is said to have been penned, or, to use a more appropriate word, punned, by none other than Benjamin Franklin.

Scene-The signing of the Declaration of Independence.

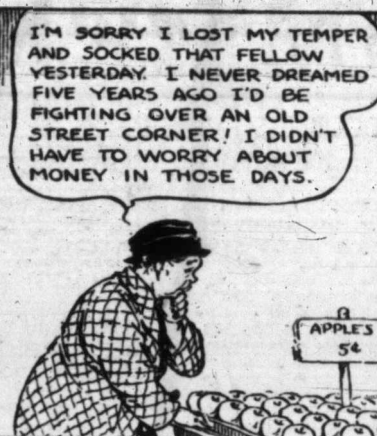

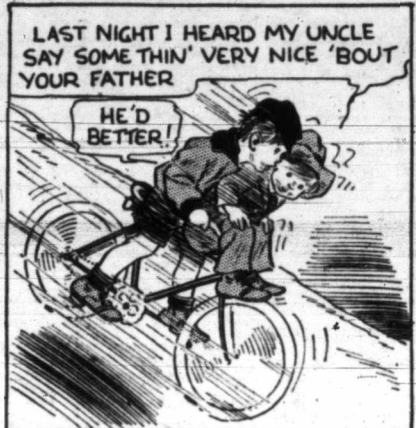

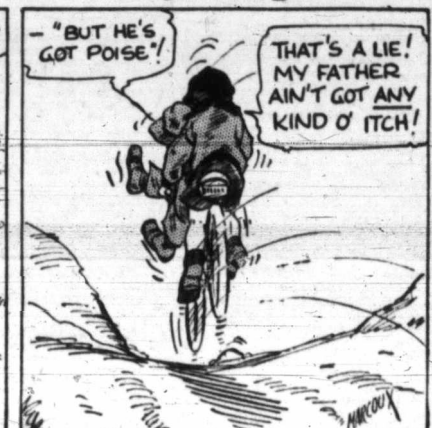

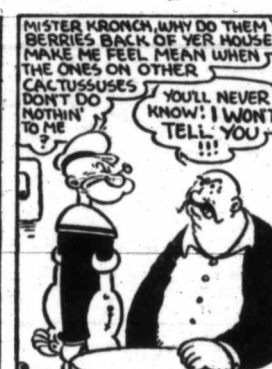

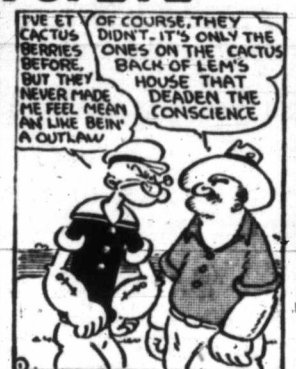

Business-John Hancock has just finished affixing his signature to this great American document.

John Hancock (as he lifts his pen)—We must all hang together. Benjamin Franklin (with a sly wink)—Yes, we must all hang together or assuredly we shall all hang separately.

And that is how it started.

"What did you think of the big fight last night, Bill?" asked the navy of his pal.

"Fight!" replied Bill, scornfully. "If the missus and me 'ad put up a show like that on Saturday night, the kids would 'ave booted us!"

BOX LACROSSE GAME CARDED

New Westminster and Vancouver Teams to Play Here December 14

Sweeping the country in a wave of popularity which the outdoor game enjoyed in Canada years ago, box lacrosse will make its second box to Victoria sports fans next Friday evening at the Horse Show Building, the Willows, when the New Westminster Adanacs and the Vancouver Bluebirds, clever Mainland aggregations, meet in an exhibition fixture, at 8:15 o'clock. Sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, the net game receipts from the game will go to the club's charitable objectives.

Finalists in the British Columbia play-offs for the right to travel East to play for the prized Mann Cup, symbolic of the Canadian championship, the Vancouver Bluebirds are a young club, which has made an exceptionally good showing in senior company. During the regular league schedule, the Bluebirds and the New Westminster Adanacs played many hectic battles, and this inter-city feud will be revived when the clubs meet here in the charity fixture.

Huddle Stoddart, well-known figure in British Columbia lacrosse circles, and a former professional with the New Westminster squad, but who has since been reinstated by the amateur bosses, will lead the boys from the banks of the Fraser, to the Capital City.

A feature of the new "box" game, of which this city has heard plenty and seen little, is that players have to be careful of the manner in which they use their sticks in checking. Penalties prove disastrous to a team, and this makes for a very fast and exciting brand of sport.

On the Mainland the playing surfaces are board floors, and this keeps the ball "live" all of the time. Boss Johnson, former Victoria lacrosse star of a few years ago, who played goal in the recent Christmas benefit programme at New Westminster, found that the extra life in the ball speeded up the game and made the goalkeeper a busy man. Johnson displayed great form in the match, and is one of the stars of yesterday who is ready to admit that the box game is one of the fastest of present-day sports.

Tickets are now on sale, and may be purchased at F. B. Richardson's, 736 Yates Street, and Two Jacks Limited, Government Street.

By A.P.A.N.

The most pleasing feature of last week's football was, of course, the recovery of Esquimalt, who enjoyed sweet revenge for the defeat they suffered, at the hands of the City the week previous. But in some ways it was a pity that they staged their comeback at the expense of the lowly City team. How much more interesting would they have made the league and they humbled the leading Thistles!

It seems that, with a regularity that threatens to become monotonous, we have to comment on the brilliance of two halves, to wit, Hay and Gibson. It will be next to impossible for the selection committee to ignore the claims of these two when it picks the team to go to Nanaimo in the near future.

The defensive and offensive work of both men is away ahead of that of any other halves in the city at

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

SIMPLE SUGGESTIONS FOR REDUCING WEIGHT

The treatment of all types of overweight by cutting down on the food intake is beset with difficulties. A recent statement says that, "A diet that is strict enough to reduce the weight satisfactorily tends to give rise to considerable loss of strength. Besides this, consideration must be given to the persistency with which the treatment is kept up. However willing and energetic the patient may be, there is always the temptation to transgress and satisfy the cravings of hunger."

This very strong desire for more food is often accompanied by a very strong desire for liquids also. In fact, patients who are able to control their desire for starch foods find it impossible to control the desire for fluids, and so give up all attempts to reduce their weight. As you know, we can live without food for a much longer time than we can live without water, so this desire or need for water is but natural. Yet in the fat individual water means weight because fat tissue holds more water than does any of the other tissues of the body.

Those reducing weight should remember this—that fat tissue holds so much water—and allow their thirst with one-quarter to one-half glass of water each time they feel very thirsty instead of drinking one to three glasses as is so frequently done.

Practically ninety-nine of every 100 overweight individuals can reduce their weight if they are willing to follow these simple suggestions:

1. Continue to eat their usual amounts of meat, eggs and fish.
2. Cut down by one-half on the starchy foods—sugar, bread, potatoes, pastry.
3. Cut down by one-half on all fat foods—cream, butter, fat meats, cheese made from whole milk, nuts, olive oil.
4. Cut down by one-half on all liquids—water, tea, milk, coffee, soft drinks.
5. Cut down by at least one-half on the amount of salt taken on or in food. Salt holds its weight in water in the body, so you can see how salt maintains weight.

Even cases of overweight due to lack of activity of the thyroid and pituitary glands can get rid of considerable weight by following the above suggestions.

The tenderfoot thought he could ride, and mounted a pony in front of a lot of cowboys. The pony soon threw him. A cowboy, helping him up, said, "Well, what threw you?"

"What threw me? Why she bucked something fearful! Didn't you see her buck?" cried the tenderfoot.

"Buck!" said the cowboy. "Rats! She only coughed!"

MAKING DRIVE FOR TOURISTS

D. Leo Dolan Tells of Federal Plans to Bring Travelers to Canada

With the admonition to keep this country British and Canadian, D. Leo Dolan, of Ottawa, director of the Canadian Travel Bureau, in an address to the Rotary Club in the Empress Hotel yesterday, stressed the feeling that Victoria, by keeping the city distinctive, would be greatly benefited in the tourist travel business. The city had a reputation in this respect and it would be to the advantage of the residents to keep it so.

Dealing with the activity with which he was charged, the speaker traced the history of the creation of this bureau which had its origin in a speech delivered in the Senate by Hon. W. H. Dennis, of Halifax, who showed that there was in this enterprise one of the greatest assets which a country could possess. While nearly every other industry had been assisted by the government of Canada, the tourist industry had remained without any assistance.

QUICK ACTION
As a result, a special committee of the Senate had been named and took evidence relative to this industry. Hon. R. F. Green, of Victoria, was a member of the committee. Quick action followed the making of recommendations and to the press of the country Mr. Dolan attributed, in large measure, credit for the way in which the public had seized the idea. The government of the Dominion appropriated the $100,000 and the plan was launched.

The Prime Minister, Mr. Hon. R. B. Bennett, insisted upon honesty in all the advertising that was done in connection with the work which fell under Mr. Dolan's charge. Mr. Dolan pointed out that the tourist of today was the investor of tomorrow. The bringing of visitors to the country was of the greatest importance. In the State of Maine, and the attractions in that state, with a population about the same as British Columbia, were not as great as they were in this Province, the non-residents of the state were the largest taxpayers.

GOOD SPENDERS
While the aim was to make Canada the playground of the continent, there was also to be borne in mind that the tourist was a good spender. Estimates showed that the average tourist left large sums in the country and the money expended was new money which in turn was put in circulation in the country. Not only were they then making the country a playground, but they were adding to its economic advantages.

The people of the United States to the number of something like 90,000,000 were travel-minded. They had been going to other countries, and Canada because other countries were advertising their attractions. Now the attractions of Canada

Province Will Pay for Error Over Sea-Otter

DOMINIC Peter, Kyquoot Indian, will get a Christmas present of $350 from the Crown. Dominic was fined $25 for having a sea-otter pelt. After trial and conviction, with the shame of public punishment, Dominic consulted friends. It developed that he would have been entitled to hunt birds, deer, sea-otter, and possibly game wardens, on his own reserve, and that the statute under which he was fined was passed a year after this particular sea-otter laid down its life. To assuage his feelings, the Provincial Government set aside $350 in compensation, yesterday.

ada are being made known and already the efforts were bearing fruit. International amity was something that was of greater importance than before. The tourist trade would foster friendly relationships between the United States and this country.

Mr. Dolan also stressed the need of the various provinces becoming better acquainted with one another.

Fishing and hunting parties were great spenders. Moreover, each of these visitors who went away satisfied from Canada was a great advertiser for this country in his State. American anglers spent $115,000,000 last year. Of this, $46,000,000 went to guides.

The speaker called upon Rotarians to be publicity agents in advertising the tourist travel to this country.

Naval Veterans To Hold Annual Function Monday

With James Quinn in charge of the programme, the annual Christmas programme and smoker of the Naval Veterans Branch, No. 42 of the Canadian Legion, will be held in the clubrooms, on Monday, December 10.

The committee in charge has been working for the past month and has succeeded in securing well-known local artists for the programme. Aside from the entertainment, many special features, surrounding usual Christmas attractions, will have their place in the programme. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

All members are urged to attend and make the entertainment the most successful ever presented.

Calling at a large drapery store during a bargain sale, a business man came across his junior typist. "So this is your grandmother's funeral?" he said, sternly. "Yes, sir, it looks like it, doesn't it?" answered the girl, pointing to a mass of struggling women. "She's in the middle of that lot."

Virginia Vane Says:

ANENT THE PROBLEM OF THE BORED WOMAN

Dear Miss Vane: In reading your column of November 8, I was dissatisfied with your advice to "Bored." Why is it always up to the woman to make the advances when domestic life becomes boring? All of you writers agree that the woman should work overtime in order to restore the harmony of the home, while the man is allowed to sit by, not making any effort and completely blameless.

If the man became bored, you know very well that he would go out and get himself a girl friend, or find some way to amuse himself. He wouldn't spend five minutes worrying about how he could adapt himself to his wife's pleasures. But of course the poor wife should study her husband's moods until she finds a way to awaken his waning interest. If such an arrangement isn't about the unfair-est thing I've ever heard of, I'd like to know what is—Also Bored."

If you'll remember, "Bored" pictured her husband as a very nice person, someone who was quite sold on his home life and completely contented and in love with his wife. I don't think you yourself would for a moment advise any course that would disrupt this happy state of affairs.

Of course it seems unfair to you that the wife has to make the effort to make her marriage more congenial, but the whole social order that makes us girls so dependent on men is pretty bad, if you want to quarrel with something. It would be well if every time you got fed up with one man's company you were free, morally and socially, to go out and get yourself another one, but you haven't a chance. Where would "Bored" be if she suddenly decided to leave her fireside for something more exciting? She apparently has no means of supporting herself, and it isn't likely that she's going to find a husband right away, especially one with a knack of preventing his wife from getting bored.

It's just possible that "Bored" is in love with her husband; that still is quite a factor in marriages, and she wouldn't enjoy stepping out with anyone else, even if she had a chance to do so.

The husband in this case is not peculiarly unresponsive. Many husbands think they have done their duty when they finish a day's work, and leave the social life up to their wives. A clever wife is going to recognize that this is her job and make every effort to understand her husband so that she will be able to do it well. And until the day comes when people recognize complete equality of the sexes, women are going to have to play the game according to these rules, even when circumstances make the unfairness of the arrangement even harder to bear than in the present case.

M.H.M.: Up to now it would appear that you have not been very friendly to your men friends. That is, I am sure, your only trouble. You can't go about with the idea that you are a bit better than the men of your acquaintance and not have it show in your actions and manner toward them. They have undoubtedly discovered your conceit, or self-respect, or whatever it is you want to call it, and it is high time that you changed your feelings and decided to take a genuine interest in your many friends. The minute you start treating your friends as human beings and not as a possible means of inflating your own opinion of yourself, they will be quick to notice it and reciprocate with a warmth that you have so far missed. The various methods you have been practicing will do you no good. No matter whether you roll your eyes up or down, you'll not find real success until you become sincerely interested in your men friends for their sakes. Somehow when you like people, your eyes tell them about it and are much more convincing than any come hither looks you might employ. Forget about yourself and become interested in your boy friends, and I know you will have the success you so earnestly seek.

Mrs. H.: My dear friend, I do sympathize with you deeply. I wish I could help you, but I am afraid that I have said too much for you. Try to believe that you have the courage necessary to get you over this bad break in your life. Everyone in the world has courage enough to meet any emergency, if they will only realize it. Remember, too, that there are decent men in the world, even though the example of manhood you happened to marry might make you think otherwise. Even though your husband wasn't paying for his crudeness by being shut away in the penitentiary, I could see no reason for your forgiving him again. He has sacrificed you to his every selfish whim, and even though you could find it in your heart to forgive him, you could not again entrust your happiness to him.

Now you have an opportunity to show just how brave you can be, and you must conduct yourself now so that in later years you will look back and be proud of your courage at this crucial time.

Seventeen: By all means write the boy a note and invite him to your dance. At least you have had the good manners to come right out and admit your friendly feeling for him, and not played the coquette the way the rest of the girls in your school are doing. He probably doesn't think of himself as such a big shot, and will perhaps welcome your frank friendship for him.
